Informal Monty Relaxed on Arrival Here

A handful of 50 persons cheered Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery of El Alamein when he arrived at Patricia Bay airport yesterday. Usually severe in demeanor, the famous British soldier rolled down the window of a Government House car, called to Daily Colonist photographer Jim Ryan: "Did you get a good one?"

It's an impressive affair for men of the 2nd Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles, as Monty inspects them with their commanding officer, Lt.-Col. W. H. V. Matthews. But two-year-old Orla Sorochan, 2630 Quadra, has other things on her mind—like picking up a cleat from a soldier's boot, maybe even from the boot of her father, Rfn. Andrew Sorochan.

The inspection is over, and Monty, who has seen a good many regiments in his long career, is impressed with the men of the Queen's Own Rifles. They're "superb," he tells the commanding officer, who is justifiably proud. No less pleased with Monty's approbation is Rifleman Deuce, Great Dane mascot of the QORs.

CCF, Tories Outsmart Government

Cameron Stalls Pipeline Debate

OTTAWA (CP) — The Progressive Conservative and CCF parties outmanoeuvred the government Thursday night and blocked it on a closure motion which would have killed debate on the committee stage of its controversial pipeline bill.

JOHN CAMERON

The opposition achieved this major victory by employing a series of procedural weapons in a six-hour period of wrangling that forced four roll-call votes.

The climax came when Colin Cameron (CCF—Nanaimo) moved a motion of censure against statements in two letters printed by the Ottawa Journal which he said were derogatory of the dignity of Parliament.

His motion, which followed a series of others by opposition members calling for adjournment and a decision as to whether the Speaker could rule on an appeal from a committee chairman's decision, came towards the 10 p.m. adjournment.

The motion was debatable and Opposition Leader Drew immediately followed him, holding the floor as the chamber reached its closing hour.

This was the first time in the long pipeline debate that the opposition had managed to block a closure motion on the day it was submitted for a vote. Two previous closure moves had terminated debate on earlier stages of the bill.

The opposition were jubilant. In contrast, the Liberals were evidently in a sour mood. The face of Prime Minister St. Laurent, who had piloted the closure move, was [illegible]

[illegible] the bill. To the House [illegible] of the [illegible] of the [illegible] the House [illegible] adopted [illegible] second reading [illegible] of the bill [illegible] $50,000,000 [illegible] Pipe Lines Act [illegible] would [illegible] continued [illegible] and then terminated.

But the House [illegible] 10 p.m. with St. Laurent [illegible] sure motion still being [illegible]

Consent Unsought

Unanimous consent is needed for the Commons to sit past this normal adjournment time, except where a closure motion has been passed and the adjournment hour set back. The government made no attempt to seek the required unanimous consent, which obviously would not have been granted by the opposition.

Speaker Rene Beaudoin suggested as the 10 p.m. adjournment drew near that parts of the letters were defamatory towards himself but asked that debate on the censure motion be delayed to another time. Mr. Drew objected, pointing out that the motion was debatable.

The opposition's procedural victory upset the government's schedule for getting its pipeline bill through the Commons.

Thursday night's closure, if it had materialized, was to have been followed today by notice of a fourth closure motion which would have terminated debate on third and final reading of the bill Monday night.

The bill now will be stalled in the House at least until Tuesday, only two days from the June 7 deadline set by the government for [illegible] Commons and Senate passage of the legislation.

Today the House [illegible] where a closure motion [illegible] hour [illegible] the opposition [illegible] obviously [illegible] would not [illegible] line legislation.

[illegible] leagues after the [illegible] Cameron said [illegible] idea [illegible] of the CCF and Progressive Conservative parties agreed [illegible] come as a complete surprise [illegible] CCF leader [illegible] Monday [illegible] spokesmen confessed to [illegible]

Mr. Cameron's action was [illegible] pulse to him. So did Mr. [illegible] Mr. Coldwell spoke [illegible] the way the opposition was able throughout the day to impose [illegible] and take advantage of [illegible] cies as they presented [illegible] selves.

All Conservative and CCF members agreed that at the [illegible] the sitting there was no [illegible] try to out-manoeuvre the [illegible] men throughout the day [illegible] that it had [illegible] out that way.

Columbia Hits B.C. Cellars, Big U.S. Areas

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Columbia river Thursday flooded some basements in the southeast British Columbia city of Trail.

And in Portland, Ore., flood forecaster Elmer Fisher revised his predicted water levels for the great river sharply upwards.

"It doesn't look good," he said.

In British Columbia, the Kootenay and Columbia rivers continued their slow climb but dike workers held their own against the rising water.

The Fraser showed a slight increase at its lower levels east of Vancouver but in the interior the readings were lower Thursday morning from the previous 24 hours.

TRAIL DAMP

In Trail, the Columbia lapped the edge of Groutage avenue, always hard hit by high water, and seeped into a number of basements. City engineers put two pumps to work in the area to prevent sewer pumps from blocking.

An engineer said that if the river continues to climb, some homes may have to be evacuated.

In the United States, an inland heat wave hung on Thursday, and flood waters surged higher from the headwaters to the lower Columbia river basin.

Overflowing rivers washed over farmlands in southeastern Idaho, northern Idaho, and along the lower Columbia reaches of Washington and Oregon.

Melting snow, feeding the mighty Columbia and its tributaries, will send the river up almost 12 feet above flood level at Vancouver, Wash., by next Tuesday, forecasters warned.

The river was at 21.7 feet at Vancouver Thursday — 9.7 feet above flood stage.

In northern Idaho the tributary Kootenai river, which has flooded 8,000 acres, continued to eat at dikes and threatened another 16,000 acres of wheatland.

Cypriots Stall Project

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—Work was suspended Thursday on Britain's new Middle East military base near Limassol after a bomb exploded, slightly injuring one Cypriot worker and damaging a building under construction at the base.

The threat of further sabotage was revealed with the discovery of a hidden cache of dynamite nearby.

Security forces immediately began searching all Cypriot workers on the $34,000,000 project, due to be occupied this year as the nerve centre of all British military camps and air bases from Malta to the Persian gulf.

Meanwhile, the death toll in the last 11 days of increased violence in Cyprus rose to 19 with the fatal shooting of a Greek-Cypriot by unknown gunmen near Argos, in southeast Cyprus, Wednesday night.

DIED OF WOUNDS

The 17th and 18th deaths also were Greek-Cypriots who died in hospital overnight from wounds received in earlier terrorist shooting incidents.

In Nicosia, Cyprus governor Sir John Harding, No. 1 target of the terrorists, rode in a black, bullet-proof limousine to take the salute at a parade of 550 British soldiers and police to mark Queen Elizabeth's official birthday.

Socialists Twit Duke of Kent And His 'Silly' Mayfair Set

LONDON (BUP)—Socialist members of Parliament, in a rare criticism of a member of the Royal Family, Thursday denounced as "hooliganism" the playboy antics of the Duke of Kent and his set of "silly young men and women."

The Socialist attack on the 20-year-old duke, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, was an extremely unusual occurrence in the House of Commons. But it was carried out in proper form, even though the Socialist critics claimed that similar "hooliganism" by lesser members of society would have sent them to jail.

The attack was led by Socialist George Thomson. Parliamentary observers said it was obvious that Thomson was bent more on twitting the duke about the activities which drew headlines than in seriously demanding his reform.

In line with the House tradition, the critics were careful not to name the duke, seventh in line of succession to the throne.

The Conservative government played the game and pretended it did not know the Socialists were talking about a member of the Royal family.

But the Socialist critics' pointed statements left no doubt that the Duke of Kent was the target of their charge that "silly young men and women of London society" can go roistering with impunity while the lower classes can't.

Thomson asked the government what action was taken by river police when a pleasure boat (with the duke aboard) went adrift in the Thames off the arty Chelsea section—and he asked how many prosecutions had taken place for "breach of the peace in the Mayfair area."

Everybody knew the duke was one of the first to pitch lifebelts to party goers who jumped overboard from the yacht while debutantes squealed.

Everybody also knew that the London Daily Mail had reported the duke afterward led a procession around a foot-wide ledge 40 feet above Curzon street in the Mayfair area and rained champagne down on the pavement.

The river police, said a government spokesman, "kept the vessel under casual observation but no further action was necessary."

New German Navy Rises from Ashes

BONN (AP) — For the third time in this century a new German navy is taking to the seas.

By 1959 it may be a hard-hitting force serving as West Germany's naval contribution to the Atlantic alliance. Its main task will be to guard the Baltic sea, Russia's gateway to the Atlantic.

Germany's first navy was defeated in the First World War. The Germans themselves scuttled most of what was left. Germany's second navy went down under Second World War allied bombardments of Germany's harbors and naval bases.

The new navy will be unique in many ways. It will number 170 ships manned and be serviced by 20,000 men. No ship will exceed 3,000 tons displacement, excepting a training vessel of 4,500 tons.

There will be a number of destroyers, each with a tonnage of 2,200 and crews of from 250 to 280 men. The speed of these ships will average 34 knots. They will be armed with new type guns usable against aircraft as well as against ships.

The fleet of submarines is what probably will fascinate the Germans most. In two wars Germany showed great proficiency in construction and operation of this type of vessel. But this time there will be none of the gigantic cruiser-type of submarine as in the two world wars.

No new German submarine will displace more than 300 tons.

A feature of the new navy will be minesweepers and minelayers.

There will be other types of vessels in the new German navy—convoy escorts, landing craft and fast speed boats.

There also will be a powerful air arm. It will be divided between the North sea and the Baltic sea. Both groups will concentrate mainly on reconnaissance, spotting submarines and on tactical warfare.

Get Some Culture Priestley Tells Us

LONDON (CP)—Bluff, ebullient B. Priestley said Thursday night that Canadians want and need a slight dose of culture, imported if necessary.

"If I were a Canadian," the British author said in a BBC broadcast, "I would ask for $100,000,000 for the arts and if I were a great many years younger I would go and join in the battle myself." He said he would "stick my neck out" and declare that Canada today needs writers and artists of all kinds "as they have never been needed in any other country or in any other time."

The average Canadian was beginning to feel frustrated and was experiencing a desire to express a Canadianism. These "wary, cautious, rather shy and withdrawn" people, struggling to assert their individuality, needed to have their temperature raised."

This was a crucial moment. Canadians were ripe for "color, style and individuality," and the real work had to be done by artists and others — brought from abroad perhaps as documentary maker John Grierson and theatre director Tyrone Guthrie had been.

Priestly found a "lingering puritanism and caution" in the Canadian character.

In snapshot impressions of communities, he describes Vancouver as a "city even more nobly sited than my old favorite, San Francisco, but lacking the color . . . of the American city"; Edmonton "a small town hastily transformed but still unplanned and rather rambling—an ugly place but filled with lively, friendly people."

Here Is Hidden . . . . . Fabulous Wealth

Ancient Script Key to Treasure Trove

MANCHESTER, England (Reuters)—Two of the 2,000-year-old Dead Sea Scrolls, unrolled by specialists here, have been found to contain a list of the hiding places of a fabulous ancient treasure hoard, it was disclosed Thursday night.

The two scrolls mentioned 60 hoards of treasure, including 200 tons of gold and silver, hidden in a 50-mile area near the Dead sea.

An official report said some of the treasure "may still be there." The hoards are believed to have been buried by the mysterious Jewish sect known as the Essenes—hitherto known as people who regarded money as unimportant.

The disclosure of the secrets of the scrolls was made by Prof. Henry Wright-Baker of Manchester University, who supervised their unrolling here.

He read to reporters a report on the translation of the two copper scrolls by the director of the department of antiquities of the Kingdom of Jordan.

The scrolls were taken to Jordan for translation by experts there after the unrolling at Manchester. Results of the translation then were communicated here.

The official Jordan report, disclosed by Wright-Baker, said that some of the treasure might still be in the original hiding places, but added: "The exact localities are of course difficult to identify nowadays as the topography of the country has changed considerably since the first century A.D."

Asked by reporters whether a treasure hunt already had begun or was contemplated the professor said he did not know but he thought it likely that the Jordan authorities would have started hunting by now.

Wright-Baker told reporters one theory about the preparation of the scrolls was that they were made quickly by the Essenes as a guide to their treasure because they feared the Romans were about to destroy their settlement.

The settlement is believed to have been overrun by Roman soldiers in the year 68 A.D.

The poor quality of the writing and the rough, hurried way in which they were rolled strengthened this theory.

The writing on the scrolls—originally part of a large single plaque eight feet long and 11 inches wide—told of some gold and silver measures and boxes of incense buried in the area between Hebron and Mt. Gerizim near Nablus, but mostly about treasures near Jerusalem.

The report expressed some caution over the validity of the treasure trove story, which it noted resembled other biblical and Arabic accounts. It said:

"The total amount of gold and silver listed amounts to nearly 200 tons, obviously a fantastic figure and coupled with the depth at which some of the hoards are alleged to lie, 15 to 18 feet, makes one doubt the authenticity of the stories."

But it added that this was "the first ancient document of its kind, a guide to treasure troves—ever to be found and it also is the earliest known text in colloquial Mishnaic Hebrew."

Sun May Come Out But No Warmth in It

Yesterday's sprinkle of rain which slightly eased the forest fire hazard was general over Vancouver Island.

The dog was placed in a respirator and transferred to an unused room.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

EVERYONE has heard of the rich man who traded in his car because the ash tray was full. On Salt Spring island they tell the story of a millionaire resident who really did trade in his new car because he had burned a hole in the upholstery.

The same man, it is related, gave his granddaughter a Cadillac convertible for her 21st birthday. She already had a Buick.

This highly respected citizen, now dead, has contributed a share to the store of island anecdote and legend.

Lively and cultured people are to be found everywhere in the islands. I went into a drug store in Ganges to borrow a cork to replace a lost cap for the gasoline can. Mrs. Margaret Wells, the pharmacist, took infinite trouble to get one.

Corks are difficult to obtain nowadays, she said, because everything seems to be made of plastic. I said that was tough luck on the cork industry; but she answered that the cork industry deserved bad luck, because it had lost its markets already through indifference and poor service.

And I found that she and her husband had lived for some time in Spain. Mrs. Wells talks in such an entertaining way about such a variety of subjects—we progressed to world affairs, to regional habits of speech, and somehow got around to Franklin D. Roosevelt — that 45 minutes went by before I noticed it.

But I went on my way with a cork just the right size, which Mrs. Wells had dug up from an odd corner—perhaps the last cork left in the store—and I joined Chris Foster in the sloop.

We sailed away to Active pass, caught the tide almost right, and made a fairly good journey to Sturdies cove on Galiano island.

I had a fish on my line as we entered the harbor, and desperately tried to pull it in while the boom swung back and forth, clonking me on the head, and the ropes tangled themselves in my line.

It was the old conflict between sail and fishing, at a point of crisis.

But despite the handicap of a mad fisherman, Chris managed to manoeuvre the boat close inshore, and despite the hindrance of a mad yachtsman, I managed to land a fish, which turned out to be only a sea bass of remarkable size and ugliness.

Garden Notes

Rose Pests Controllable

By M. V. CHESNUT, F.R.H.S.

The pests of roses are, in the main, a lot easier to control than the rose diseases. The newer insecticides, such as Isotox and Malathion, have proved to be most effective against the more troublesome pests, and are cheaper and more long-lasting than those old stand-bys, derris and nicotine.

The greenfly takes top priority from now until early autumn. They suck the sap from the young shoots, flower stems and buds, and unless prompt spraying or dusting is undertaken, you will have weaker growth, distorted flowers, and the loss of many buds.

NEVER OVERFEED

Never overfeed your roses, whether with bag fertilizers or with barnyard manure. Too much easy living produces soft, sappy growth which greenfly and other pests will choose in preference to strong, hard stems and leathery leaves.

Spring and early summer are the peak periods for greenfly. Our recent hot weather encourages rapid breeding, and greenfly will increase at a prodigious rate when conditions are favorable. Spraying or dusting should be carried out as soon as infestation is noticed, and repeated a day or two later, as a new hatch is born. Even then, more greenfly will arrive from weeds and unsprayed plants, and often are transferred from one plant to another by the ants.

What is the best insecticide for greenfly? Derris is still useful, but a bit slow in action. It has one particular virtue, though, in that it is completely safe and harmless to humans and all warm-blooded animals, although deadly to insects and fish. It is, therefore, a wise choice, where busy-fingered small fry might go exploring in the garden medicine chest, or for use on food crops soon to be eaten.

Nicotine is quicker, but doesn't work very well in cool weather, as it needs a temperature of around 65 degrees to vaporize. DDT, while excellent for tent caterpillars and thrips, is almost useless against greenfly and other aphis. Malathion comes very close to the ideal insecticide, as it cleans out a very wide range of pests, including the hard-to-kill mites.

SPRAY OR DUST?

"Spray or dust?" I would say the answer to this depends a lot on the scale of your gardening. Spraying is more effective, and if you are growing roses in a big way, it would probably pay to go to all the trouble of mixing up a spray. For the casual gardener, however, with only a few minutes between breakfast and bus to do the roses, I don't think you can beat those inexpensive all-purpose garden dusts sold in cardboard cylinders which can be used as a puffer-gun for applying the dust. Such a cylinder sits on the shelf in the garage, all ready to go to work the moment you spot the first signs of an insect invasion.

Canadian Names New Film Firm

TORONTO (CP) — Jack Chisholm, veteran Canadian film producer and former Hollywood stunt man, Thursday announced the formation of a motion-picture and television production and distribution company as a division of the Associated Broadcasting Company Ltd.

Research Report Opposes Legalizing of Drug Sales

Two proposals recently and frequently advocated to help solve the drug addiction problem have been flatly vetoed by a special narcotics research team.

Legal sale of drugs to addicts would increase problems and compulsory segregation of addicts is "basically unsound," reports a University of B.C. research team headed by Dr. George H. Stevenson.

A 700-page report handed down after 32 months' study by the four-man team calls for new and more imaginative methods of trapping key drug traffickers, mainly in Vancouver, centre of the illicit trade in Canada.

"If narcotics can be largely prevented from reaching the consumer, the problem of the addict will greatly decrease."

There must be "much closer co-operation between federal, provincial and city officials at the highest levels to formulate more effective methods . . . and pursue them with vigor and intensity."

Extent of the trafficking was pointed out in the report, compiled after many hundreds of addicts were interviewed at Oakalla Prison Farm.

Illegal heroin is brought into Vancouver at the rate of 1,900 capsules a day.

SMALL AREA

Of the 3,212 addicts believed to be in Canada, 1,185 are in B.C.—and most are concentrated in a small area of East Hastings street in Vancouver when not in prison.

The researchers also recommended:

1. Elimination of mandatory prison sentences for those caught possessing drugs.

2. An end to discrimination between so-called "professional" and "medical" addicts on one hand and so-called "criminal" addicts on the other.

3. No legalization of the sale or free provision of narcotics by clinics, medical prescription or other method.

4. Establishment of voluntary treatment clinics.

5. Withdrawal treatment should be given in Crease Clinic or Essondale; otherwise B.C. should change the Hospital Insurance Act to permit treatment in hospitals or private sanitaria.

Narcotics do not make criminals, the team said. Three-quarters of the addicts in B.C. were criminals before they became addicts.

Any favoring of "professional" addicts, such as doctors, and "medical" addicts who succumbed while under treatment over so-called "criminal" addicts was particularly criticized in the report.

CONSIDERATION

"Persons in these two groups are apparently given much more consideration by the authorities than are the so-called 'criminal' addicts," the report stated.

Drug addiction is more easily discontinued than alcoholism, it said.

Besides Dr. Stevenson, the team included Lewis R. A. Lingley, psychologist; George E. Trasov, social worker, and part-time internist Hugh Stansfield.

Police Agree

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police agree with the major recommendations of the University of British Columbia team that studied narcotics addiction in the province and recommended steps to control it, chief constable George Archer said Thursday.

However, he disagreed with some of the recommendations of the four-man research group that has been working on the problem since 1953.

The police chief said he sees possible danger in the proposal to give narcotics education to children in schools.

"I think education in the schools might provoke the curiosity of children to the point some might wish to experiment," he said.

U.S. Acts

WASHINGTON (UP) — The U.S. Senate yesterday passed a bill to crack down on the "cancerous" nationwide narcotics racket by outlawing all use of heroin and providing the death sentence for hardened offenders.

Virtually assuring a tough new law this year, the House ways and means committee also approved a somewhat similar anti-narcotics bill.

Under the bill, all heroin now legally held by doctors and others would be sold to the government. Senator Daniel's subcommittee said heroin has no medical use that cannot be accompanished better by some other drug.

Stiffer penalties also would be imposed for smuggling heroin into the United States and for selling it. They would range from five to 10-year sentences for first offenders to life imprisonment, and a possible death sentence, for a third offence.

Juries also would be permitted to recommend the death sentence for sale of heroin to youngsters under 18. The minimum penalty for sales to juveniles would be 10 years in prison.

'Patriot' Makes Friends

By BERT BINNY

The 1956 edition of the annual Normal School concert played its first of two nights at S. J. Willis school last night.

It was a well-concieved and, indeed, well-contrived production. Lighting, costumes and settings were quite delightful, the scenic department for the play, "The Patriot," being particularly successful.

The program was divided into three parts. The Voice of France, The Melody of Britain and the Voices of Canada. Contributing to these were the choir, dancers, singers and three narrators.

Perhaps the outstanding items from the choir were the Hebridean "Turn Ye To Me", Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and the Newfoundland folk son, "We'll Rant and We'll Roar."

Student conductors Jacqueline Ormond and Malcolm Hamilton impressed by their abilities and their enthusiasm.

On stage a German folk song, a Norwegian solo (E. Myhre) and a Ukrainian folk dance (R. Halowski, accompanist W. Khadikin) were well received.

There were two plays. The first was Benson's "The Patriot." There was every evidence of hard work in this production but it seemed that while all the hard work should have gone into the play, some of it remained outside. D. Henderson as the Stranger had some excellent passages but, in general, the speech was too punctilious considering the characters shown and the speed was consequently rather slow.

Gwen Pharis Ringwood's "Still Stands the House" was the other play, a very finished presentation. Participants were Barbara Donnison, Sharon Storrie, Gerald Guest and P. Seale. They all established very good characterization and sustained it throughout. But the chief point in the favor of this cast was their careful avoidance of any suggestion of overdoing their parts. The story being what it is there was every temptation and opportunity to "ham it up." They never ever did and thus they made the tale believable. And this is the prime responsibility given to any player of any part.

Trudelle Horde Plans Reunion

MONTREAL (CP)—Descendants of Jean Trudelle, a French colonist who settled on the outskirts of Quebec City, 300 years ago, plan a giant rally July 1 to celebrate the 300th anniversary of his marriage.

It is estimated there are 18,000 of Trudelle's descendants on the North American continent and approximately 5,000 of them are expected to attend the rally in the Quebec City suburb of Boischatel.

Some of the descendants have retained the original spelling of the Trudelle name but others have shortened it to Trudel.

One-Twin Pop Disclaims Progeny

WASHINGTON (UP)—A man appearing before juvenile judge Edith Cockrill insisted he was the father of only one of a set of twins born out of wedlock.

He said he was father of the one who "features me more" but disclaimed the parentage of the other.

Monty Still 'Sharp' at 70 to Victoria's Welcoming Eye

This is the man who vanquished one of the Second World War's greatest generals—Von Rommel, the "Desert Fox"—in the North African campaign and earned the sobriquet of "Montgomery of El Alamein." This is the man who is now deputy supreme Allied commander in Europe, made the subject of an arresting study by Colonist photographer Jim Ryan.

Viscount Montgomery was as delighted to speak with an old soldier as A. S. Averill, 3950 Telegraph Bay road, obviously was to meet him. The field marshal noticed the gunner's tie worn by Mr. Averill, a member of the 18th Divisional Artillery of the Imperial army in the First World War, and a new friendship was made.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Pipeline Debaters . . . . . Fighting Shadows

Old Parties in Death Struggle—Bennett

The pipeline debate in the House of Commons has developed into "the death struggle" of the Liberals and Conservatives, Premier W. A. C. Bennett said yesterday.

"It is the beginning of the end of these two historic parties in Canada," he told newsmen.

The premier, speaking from prepared notes, said that both parties had lost sight of the real issue at stake.

No one, he said, opposed building the line, in fact it should have been built long ago.

FIGHTING SHADOWS

"The whole argument appears to be a matter of fighting the shadow, not the substance; that is, the method of financing," said the premier.

"I think the funniest note of all struck in the debate was when Trade Minister C. D. Howe said private enterprise could not finance the pipeline alone because of credit restrictions in Canada.

"This would be comical if it were not so serious," he said.

"Who put in these restrictions?" he continued. "It was the national government through its agency, the Bank of Canada.

"Now they are trying to circumvent their own policy of credit restrictions the national government itself has imposed. Whom are thye trying to fool?"

REVISE CREDIT

Premier Bennett said he called again for the federal government to revise credit policies and allow proper expansion of Canadian business at low interest rates.

"This credit shortage is not a national one," he said. "It is purely artificial, brought about by artificial means by raising the interest rates and causing chartered banks to unload millions of dollars in federal government bonds."

The move would not stop advancing prices, the premier said.

"This higher price for money will mean automatically higher prices," he stated.

Father Desolated

Baby Drinks, Dies; Not Juice, Solvent

VANCOUVER (CP) — Maureen Tanassee, only four days past her second birthday, died in a police car after mistaking solvent for apple juice.

Alec Tanassee, the baby's father, said the girl climbed onto a stool on their back porch and tipped over a 32-ounce apple juice can. The contents spilled over her face and into her open mouth. The baby died on the way to hospital.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A United States submarine fitted with experimental electronic devices docked here Friday under the shadow of a Russian freighter.

Lieut. Robert C. Parsons, executive officer of the submarine Baya, asked when he saw the red flag flying above him:

"How long is that Russian going to be around here?"

"Don't send any frogmen overside to investigate," replied a newspaper photographer.

BURNABY, B.C. (CP)—Three Oakalla prison farm convicts charged with holding a guard hostage with a razor held to his throat for five hours, were committed for trial yesterday.

Robert Tremblay, Marcel Frencette and Charles Talbot all pleaded not guilty to the incident at the prison farm in this suburban Vancouver municipality May 7.

PENTICTON (BUP) — A physician with a stethescope was called to the Royal Bank in Penticton when the time lock mechanism failed to open the bank's safe.

After his examination, the doctor reported the mechanism "dead." Bank officials said they believed the time lock was wound too tightly.

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Hunt for an Oakalla prison farm escapee entered its third day yesterday throughout the lower mainland area of British Columbia.

Police have no leads on the whereabouts of George Perovich, 26, who was serving a two-year sentence for breaking and entering, since he fled a prison work gang Tuesday morning.

His wife, an expectant mother, said "I'm sure he would give himself up if I could only talk to him."

Prison officials said Perovich made the break because he was excited and worried about his wife.

Socred Cabinet Off to Prairies

Trade and Industry Minister Ralph Chetwynd is the only B.C. cabinet minister who will not be taking part in the Saskatchewan provincial election next month.

All other cabinet ministers will travel to the wheat province to beat the Social Credit war drums in a major effort to topple the CCF government of Premier T. C. Douglas.

The sun, in a single hour, sheds enough energy on the earth to supply the total needs of the United States for 12 years.

Avoid Vodka Says Distiller; LCB Agrees

British Columbia liquor stores are not selling and will not sell odorless, tasteless vodka.

Leo W. Vezina, president of the H. Corby Distillery Ltd., which manufactures the liquor, says it is a contributing factor in juvenile delinquency, because it leaves no tell-tale odor on the breath.

"Kids drink it," he said. "If you want youngsters to get under the influence of alcohol without their parents knowing it, then make the sale of vodka legal in B.C."

"We don't sell it," said Col. Donald McGugan, chairman of the B.C. liquor commission. "We are not going to."

Two Cafes Licensed For Liquor

Liquor licences have been issued to the Monterey restaurant in Victoria and Chez Ernest in Saanich.

The move follows announcement by Attorney-General Robert Bonner recently that certain selected restaurants in Victoria and Greater Vancouver would be given licences to serve liquor as well as wine and beer.

The licences are being issued on an experimental basis.

Hard liquor may be served between the hours of 11.30 a.m. and 2.30 p.m. and from 5 to 10 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Eleven licences were issued to mainland restaurants.

Zoning Requires Support

VICTORIA'S new zoning ordinance, the recently enacted by-law which incorporates the consolidated suggestions of the town planning commission after a careful study, is another positive step on the part of the city administration. Although the measure has drawn contention, it is immeasurably superior to the zoning control it replaces. Why there should have been a three-year delay in securing action on this is beyond comprehension, but the present council has now cured that. This paper has said before that zoning control is impossible without public understanding and community support. There is the task for the immediate future.

It would pay the City to publish in a compact, convenient form a copy of the zoning by-law (1956) with its attendant explanatory map. The result could be sold at cost over the counter by the city, and as increasing knowledge of the new zoning limits spread in the community there would come the building up of public understanding of the plan that is the first essential of any successful application of the principle. Without some such dissemination of its terms the new zoning scheme will be faced with all of the obstacles of the former zoning scheme—and that failed through no reason so surely as that the public did not know and so would not abide by its terms.

To succeed in a fast-growing area, where land values are rising and competition for occupation and use is becoming stiffer all of the time, zoning must have a widely-based body of public support. The principle of regulating space for at least the main community needs is a thoroughly sound one. The more individuals come to understand the plan and to know precisely what the new zoning scheme is intended to do, the fewer will be the appeals for special privileges, for concessions against the designed uses of the various sections of the community. The granting of exemptions under pressure wrecked Victoria's first zoning ordinance. In a much larger community and with infinitely more involved needs, that should not be allowed to recur.

Whatever may be its faults, the new zoning by-law is a courageous restatement of the things to be done. It can be reshaped and improved as experience may warrant, but from the very start it should—and we believe must—have the good will of the whole community behind it if the effort is to succeed. There are few cities in Canada with finer natural advantages. It should not be beyond the capabilities of Victoria to use sound zoning principles for the improvement of the town and to the benefit of all concerned.

Mounting Burden of Debt

THE extent to which the economy of this country is based on personal credit is demonstrated by the Dominion bureau of statistics in returns for 1955 just published. Notwithstanding mild attempts by Finance Minister Harris to discourage over-extension of credit to the public, debts incurred in the purchase of goods increased by more than half a billion dollars last year, to a record total of almost $5,000,000,000. The individual debt in proportion to the population now stands at about $325, for every man, woman and child in the country.

Nor does that figure take into account liabilities under mortgages, borrowings on life insurance policies, or personal loans from banks, credit unions and finance companies. Add to these commitments the individual share of national, provincial and municipal debts and the total owed by each citizen of Canada becomes something disturbing to contemplate.

The bureau's analysis of credit purchasing in 1955 shows that the larger increase occurred in buying on monthly charge accounts, the total of which was $262,700,000 higher than the year before. Sales on instalment plans, however, also reflected the growing tendency of Canadians to buy items such as cars, television sets and household appliances before they have the cash for more than a token down payment. These sales increased by $245,300,000 to a new record of $1,676,800,000, which substantially exceeded the total of all personal savings in that year.

Possibly in times of prosperity like the present the domestic business of the nation can afford to carry debts of this magnitude, although several leading economists—including former Finance Minister Abbott—have expressed perturbation over the trend even when the total of personal debts was nothing like as high as it is today. The danger is that even a minor recession, from which the national economy could quickly recover otherwise, might be magnified by a general curtailment of purchasing power due to an overburden of consumer debt. From the statistics it is obvious that the government's timid reproach of personal extravagance up to now has failed to keep credit trade within wise bounds.

Bricks without Straw

IT is a truism that one gets what one pays for and this was never better illustrated than in the dilemma that faces Police Chief Blackstock, instructed to keep the 700 block Yates free of young hoodlums who infest this area at night to the great annoyance of storekeepers and passersby. These rowdies deserve drastic attention and for far too long they have been free to create disorder. It is all very well for the police commission to issue instructions about doubling patrols, however; no magic wave of the chief's hand will produce men when he does not have them. The pinch-penny policy of the city with respect to its police force is a boomerang.

Not long ago the chief reported that with round-the-clock shifts, sickness, holidays and other multifarious duties he had only four or five men available for ordinary beat patrols. That is a fantastic situation in a city the size and density of Victoria. Supposing he puts all four of them onto Yates street; this leaves the rest of the city open to wrongdoers. Yet when the police budget was up for scrutiny a few weeks ago an appeal for five more men was disregarded. Without absolving the police force from its legitimate responsibilities it is obvious that it simply cannot do all that is being asked of it.

The police commission should have directed a reminder to the city fathers that the enforcement of law and order should have prior consideration. There is much talk of vast new schemes for a civic administrative centre, of a garbage wharf costing $100,000 for instance; but a perennially blind eye is cast on police protection. A garbage wharf is a commendable project but set against the necessity of making city streets safe for the people who inhabit them the perspective seems rather out of focus. The chief blame for the Yates Street situation is not to be laid at the door of the police station but of the City Hall. So long as aldermen refuse the force the policemen it needs to do its job properly so long will such happenings as the Yates Street nuisance arise to plague the community.

Interpreting the News

Eden Faces Tory Revolt

By BERNARD KAPLAN
North American Newspaper Alliance

SIR Robert Boothby is getting angrier by the minute. His state of mind portends trouble for Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden's already sorely beset government.

Boothby's scowl could foreshadow the first big "backbench" revolt against a British cabinet since Neville Chamberlain was overturned by members of his own Conservative party in the black wartime days of 1940. The backbenchers rose up to demand that Winston Churchill assume the governmental reins and supply the vigorous direction to the war effort the country insisted on.

One of those Conservative backbenchers was Robert Boothby. He still is one and, though hardly known outside Britain, one of the most respected men in British politics.

Men like Boothby are asking whether Eden has the ability to cope with the situation. It is no secret here that the answer many of them are giving in private conversation at their clubs and in the country houses where they gather on weekends is that Sir Anthony is not measuring up to the task. Dissatisfaction with both him and his top associates is widespread and increasing.

Backbenchers play a key role in British politics. In the final analysis, cabinets depend on them. In times of crises they may, as in 1940, hold decisive power.

Such a time may be approaching. The Conservative backbenches, only a little less than the Labor opposition across the aisle, have been sparking with criticism of Eden's failure to solve the Cyprus problem before it developed into the present nightmare of terror and repression.

Bloodshed in Cyprus, deadlock in Singapore, election of an anti-British government in Ceylon and the threat of civil war in Nigeria, to which dominion status has been pledged within a year or two, have cast gloom over the entire future of the Commonwealth system.

Eden's government has a comfortable majority of more than 50 in the House of Commons. In normal times, this would be more than enough to keep in power for a full five years.

But the Boothbys of the House are becoming convinced the country is being short-changed. They are once again starting to call for more vigorous leadership as an imperative necessity. If and when they decide their patriotic duty is no longer compatible with party discipline, Sir Anthony will be in for it.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

IT IS not easy to find any reference to Social Credit in the Bible—the concordances are strangely neglectful in this respect—but that does not daunt the confidence of the minister in whose [illegible] extra special study of Biblical allusion may have revealed secrets not visible to the layman. At all events he has no hesitation in asserting Abraham was the first Socred, because he made an agreement with God. The Bible can be quoted to suit amazing convenience, however. Hence it is that no great mental strain is needed to envision Noah as the first Conservative, for he planted a vineyard. Indeed he might also be cited as the first Liberal, since he partook liberally of the grape juice he harvested. And, said thought, Noah lived before Abraham.

There is a machine at our place of work which for a certain silver coin will provide a nice cool drink on a hot day. Paying more attention the other day than usual to its modus operandi I discovered that the water goes in first and last, with the liquid essance in between. Should I be surprised at the proportions or is this customary in the mixing of all drinks?

It is intriguing to read that one of the crack international soccer players of Germany is one-armed; interesting to know for instance how as a halfback he manages the throw-ins. Balance is so important in an athletic role it bespeaks volumes for his ability that he can attain such a high playing status. This writer once played against a one-armed footballer, a fullback, who was a real sturdy defender. It was rather obvious however that opposing forwards were reluctant to charge him on his weak side, thus allowing him more scope than I fancy is allowed the German player in the keen international competition of modern days.

The one world that Wendell Willkie talked about may come to pass, when communism and capitalism meet in transition to an equitable and harmonious state of society. That view was expressed by Matthew Halton this week, and a prescient one it could be even if few of us may live to see such a golden age. Meantime, as the CBC's foreign correspondent pointed out, we should take heed of the fact that technical know-how is no longer the monopoly of the west and that the Soviet state is actually ahead in the production of engineering and scientific graduate students. It is never wise to underrate your adversary and to date it has seemed all too easy for the west to scorn the capacities of Soviet Russia. To continue in that vein would be the west's biggest bloomer.

An ex-serviceman in Australia has just received a cheque for $8.75 as alleviation for his 3½ years in a Japanese prison, being captured as a Singapore volunteer in defence of that stronghold. The sum represents his share of the Burma-Siam railway compensation money. Either the Japs didn't make substantial pecuniary amend or a year in a war prison camp is assessed as worth only $2.50. Better that no compensation had been made at all, although I suppose the veteran can frame the cheque as an example of the vagaries of fortune—and of mankind.

When color comes to TV the CBC will have to "shoot" a new royal vignette to end its daily programs and movie houses will have to follow suit. Winston, the golden chestnut police horse which carries the Queen at Trooping the Color and provides a picturesque touch to video and film closures—is to be retired from royal service. No wonder perhaps. The horse is almost 17 years old and the presumption is that it's as exacting for a horse to stand motionless for an hour at a birthday parade as it would be for an equivalently aging man. Winston won't go out to pasture, however; alas, he'll still do his regular police duty. The point is though that his successor may be colored black, who knows.

Traffic Problems in the Air

By RICHARD L. THOMAS, Daily Colonist Correspondent

THE problems of air traffic control are becoming more and more complicated, and in Great Britain the situation is more acute than anywhere else in the world. This tiny island not only has to deal with a major congestion of airways—overseas and internal—but it has also a strong concentration of air force bases and a large number of manufacturers each with their own airfields and aircraft to test.

The system of control operating today is regarded by most people—pilots and operators—as primitive. It has failed to keep pace with aircraft design and speed and it has reached the point where radical changes must be made. There are for example recognized airways—zones which provide for rigid control of aircraft flying from 3,000 feet to 11,000 feet, complete with recognized cross-overs; but there are two significant points about these airways. No one can be compelled to use them in clear weather, and the majority of airliners these days fly above 11,000 feet, where the air is open to all comers.

Canada has experienced the tragedy of aerial collision. We had one BEA airliner destroyed under similiar conditions over Coventry eight years ago and another "near miss" a couple of months ago when the airliner was saved, 26 seconds before it would have been hit by an RAF Meteor, by a crash dive which injured some passengers, fortunately not seriously.

Today our principal internal and European services are flown by Viscount airliners which travel around 20,000 feet for maximum efficiency of operation, so that except during climbs and descents they are not interested in the controlled airways. Most Atlantic airliners keep to the 15,000-foot ceiling. It is in the area above 11,000 feet that danger lurks.

This is the area in which RAF, American and Canadian jets do their stuff. This is where the big bombers fly and it is officially open sky. Service aircraft are not subject to civil control, and beyond a degree of friendly co-operation there is no official interchange of information. Add to these service craft the machines being tested by manufacturers—many of which these days are shooting round faster than sound—and it will be appreciated what the risks are.

True, the service men have been tending to go higher. More and more service aircraft go above 25,000 feet, which at present is a zone not used by airliners; but they still have to get there and get down, and not all training can be done at such exaggerated heights. Below 3,000 feet the air is again free except in the vicinity of airports, and this zone is used by private fliers and by ferry operators. It is becoming very congested, especially in the coastal areas.

The position today is that airliners go up and down through airport control but, once beyond the airport circuit the sky is free, provided the weather is clear. If it is not clear zonal control keeps a tab on the airliners up to 11,000 feet, but above that the sky is free regardless of the weather. Airliner pilots have radar; for their own safety they fly a course voluntarily agreed upon; so that there is no chance of meeting another airliner; but control over service and private aircraft is lacking. The Air Ministry is wisely arguing that military machines cannot be operated subject to civilian direction, and civil aviation is not prepared to accept service control. But something has got to be done to resolve the problem.

The idea at the present time is that airways should be extended to cover the sky area between 3,000 feet and 25,000 feet. That civil control of these airways should be absolute except in an emergency. The RAF or any other service machines would be prohibited from entering the airways, which would follow a route about 10 miles wide, and if it was necessary to cross them service machines would have to go above 25,000 feet or below 3,000 feet. Airway control would be absolute in all weathers.

Commercial pilots are not entirely happy about this. They argue that it means that ground staff are in effect flying their aircraft. It would mean keeping to specific heights within the airway with no right to alter course without permission from the ground. In fact, if not in theory, this exists today as the companies always insist on a flight plan in which the airliner captain keeps a certain course, height and speed.

A statistician has worked out that somewhere in Britain an aircraft is landing or taking off every 10 seconds, so that rigid control is necessary for safety. At any given moment of the day or night there are 70 aircraft in flight across the Atlantic going to or from the British Isles. Aircraft to and from the continent are taking off or landing every minute and on top of all that there are busy internal services. All these machines are under some form of ground control and the real problem is one of co-ordination.

The problem will not be completely solved until someone has found a way of stopping aircraft in mid-air, making them hover and preferably able to reverse themselves; but meanwhile plans are being formulated designed to make the world's most congested air space—over the United Kingdom—as safe as human ingenuity, radar and directional beams and vocal control can make it. We have got airport control to a fine art and almost incredible efficiency, but the wider air space needs a firmer hand, and the fact has now been recognized. Some radical changes may be expected very soon.

Martinet Logic

(From The Winnipeg Tribune)

RT. HON. J. G. Gardiner, another of the grand old marinets of the cabinet, is of course all in favor of the government's use of closure to chop off debate in the House of Commons on the $80,000,000 pipeline loan.

But Mr. Gardiner the politician is keenly aware that even Liberals across the country are blushing at the government's autocratic action, and an attempt should be made to justify use of the gag.

Here is how Mr. Gardiner supported closure in the Commons the other day: "By using the rules of this House, they (the opposition) have deprived themselves of the right to discuss a pipeline across this country."

Mr. Gardiner's argument was that by following parliamentary rules of procedure and trying to give the $80,000,000 loan a thorough scrutiny, the opposition was embarrassing the government. As a consequence, the opposition "had deprived" itself of "the right to discuss a pipeline across this country."

A dictatorship could hardly improve on that logic.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

The small daughter in a televisionless household regarded the arrival of a new piano with little enthusiasm. "Can't we put something on the roof to show we've got it?" she asked her mother.

It makes one feel young, somehow, hearing the "fresh new comedy talent" on television dishing out material one hadn't heard for 20 years.

"Your husband is suffering either from overwork or excessive indulgence in alcoholic stimulants. It is difficult to say which," decided the doctor.

"Oh, I'm sure it's overwork," replied the anxious wife. "Why, he can't even go to the theatre without hurrying out half a dozen times during the performance to telephone one of his business partners."

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

DOES anybody remember, with shame, with pride, those war days when hoarding was the vogue? Some of us may be ashamed of the tricks we resorted to in those days. Others of us take secret pride in the fact that we outsmarted our neighbors. We would do it again.

But will you believe me that there are still hoarders amongst us? An acquaintance of mine, elderly, about my age, has never got over the deprivations he suffered during the last war. And he is determined never to be caught napping again. He reads the news each day, especially the uneasy news from the Palestine-Jordan area, or from North Africa, with a sense of justification.

For the old son of a gun has a whole bureau drawer full of imported tinned pipe tobacco. And in the attic, a large box containing a gross of cakes of his favorite toilet soap. Not being a drinking man, none the less he has quietly amassed quite a wine cellar full of nothing but moderately-priced whisky. Remembering gas rationing, he has stashed up at his summer home, in an old abandoned ice house, 10 40-gallon drums of gas.

"You never know," he tells me.

Before his wife died he bought her 48 pairs of nylon stockings and made her store them in quart sealers, air tight, in the attic. In different drawers and cupboards he has amassed over the past 10 years since the last war little packages and boxes of all the things he remembers you couldn't get—pipe cleaners, spark plugs, hair nets, a dozen good kitchen paring knives; and on the shelf of his bedroom cupboard, 16 boxes of lump sugar.

His hobby is remembering the things he was deprived of and going out immediately and laying in a suitable store of them.

"I remember," he said, "how I had to scramble and sneak and creep to get things during the last war. It was humiliating. I don't intend to go through that again. Next time I'll just sit here and watch everybody else making hogs of themselves. I'll have everything already!"

It is quite a point of view.

If I didn't know he was joking, I would laugh at him.

Letters to the Editor

'Free Loaders'

I would like to reply to two of your readers who feel that the proposed tax cut is unfair, simply because they do not pocket any money from it. I wonder if these people realize how many privileges they enjoy that are paid for by the taxpayers?

For example, police and fire protection, sidewalks which they walk on, roads on which they drive, also schools and parks from which their children benefit.

As for being fortunate in owning one's home, well, I don't feel that it is a matter of being fortunate. It is more truly a matter of scrimping and saving to finance a house; then years of paying for said home, while at the same time we are paying taxes which in turn pay for all previously mentioned benefits.

But it is usually the "free loaders" who do the most complaining.

Pipeline Sell-Out

Congratulations to The Daily Colonist on the news coverage given the pipeline deal.

Now that Prime Minister St. Laurent is "permitting" debate for the rest of this week on the pipeline bill the public must make good use of the time by wiring and writing their MPs and the prime minister to protest "one of the most outrageous sell-outs there has ever been of Canadian rights and Canadian resources" (to quote from George Drew).

CCF, Capitalism

May I comment on the political fracas now taking place in Ottawa, and the unnecessary heat been shown in debate on the proposed loan for the gas line, accusations of political patronage, etc., being hurled across the floor from all parties.

An analysis of this bill from a working-class point of view shows clearly "it is no concern of theirs whatsoever." It is simply a struggle between the various groups of capitalists as to who is going to collect the profits from this gas line.

The irony of the whole situation is, if the CCF had been a working-class party, as they claimed to be, they would not be taking sides on this issue, but would be explaining that the workers only sell labor power; they have no claim on the profits, and when seeking jobs they don't ask questions as to the ownership of capital. Their main concern is wages. Neither would they be advocating public ownership of the line, as the workers would be worse off under public ownership than they are today; and where would they get the money from to construct the line?

The reports from Ottawa show the CCF throwing their whole organization behind the Conservative party, giving all the energy at their command in support of the capitalists. Once again the CCF has demonstrated its devotion to the maintenance of the capital system, as opposed to the working class, whose votes for the CCF were clearly obtained by misrepresentation.

QUEEN ELIZABETH

'Nothing Ails Parks Money Can't Cure'

More money, not a metropolitan parks board, is the cure for the ills of the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said last night as the group held its annual budget meeting.

The committee decided against spending a large amount to build a new walkway at Gorge park, and instead allocated a maximum of $15,200 for improvements of seven parks, leaving itself a small surplus.

"We haven't the funds available to do the work that should be done," said Alderman Edgelow. "A metropolitan parks board won't help that."

He suggested the committee meet "later" to determine if Esquimalt and Oak Bay would contribute to park development under a single board. Reeves A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt and Fred Norris of Oak Bay said Wednesday they opposed the idea.

After the $10,000 walkway project was dropped, Alderman Edgelow said the Kinsmen club might do some work at the "old swimming hole" below the Gorge bridge this year. The area might be re-named Kinsmen beach.

The committee decided to spend "up to $2,500" in the area if the Kinsmen take on Gorge improvement as a project. Alderman Edgelow will discuss the matter with the club Tuesday.

Committee set aside $3,000 for possible use for a parking area as part of the $25,000 lookout which the Chamber of Commerce may build at Mt. Tolmie.

The Happyland concession at Elk Lake was termed "an absolute disgrace — a poor man's Coney Island." A strong letter demanding a cleanup will be sent to the lessee.

Remainder of the budget is maintenance for all parks, $5,200; new diving float, picnic tables, parking area and road at Beaver lake, $2,850; Gyro park improvements, $1,600; Cordova Bay park improvements, $500; beach extension and other work at Eagle park, $1,150. Improvements at Mt. Douglas park will be considered later.

Whaler Race Issue In Sea Cadet Fray

Some 250 sea cadets from all over Vancouver Island move into HMCS Naden this evening for the annual sea cadet week-end.

They will fight it out on the Naden playing fields and in a whaler race to determine which is the best corps on the island.

Last year Victoria's Rainbow cadets won the whaler cup but lost the Navy League of Canada divisional sports trophy to the Port Alberni corps.

Sports competitions, including a hotly contested tug-of-war, will be held in the afternoon.

The program opens with ceremonial divisions early tomorrow morning and an inspection by Commodore Patrick Budge, DSO.

The whaler race will be held at 11 a.m., and at the same time cadet rifle teams will compete on the .22 range.

On Sunday the cadets visit Christ Church Cathedral for morning service.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP)—Oats, barley and rye prices held to a narrow range while flax was lower in active trade yesterday on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Domestic shippers were buyers in both oats and barley. Export buying in barley was in connection with small sales to the United Kingdom. A steady undertone was noted in both grains.

Flax trade saw selling by American houses and buying by exporters and processors. Small sales of flax to the United Kingdom also were reported. Americans were sellers of rye, while shippers gave support. Operations in all grains included closing out of May contracts.

No information was available on overnight export wheat loadings.

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains advanced on the board of trade yesterday following Agriculture Secretary Benson's announcement of soil bank payment rates on some crops.

Prior to Benson's announcement the market had been highly erratic, most cereals selling lower while soybeans firmed. A forecast of a smaller than expected carryover of fats and oils on Oct. 1 helped soybeans.

Rise Stalls; Prices Mixed; Close Lower

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market's two-day advance was stalled Thursday as prices milled around inconclusively for most of the session and closed slightly lower. Trading was at its slowest pace since Jan. 24, with 4,178,000 shares traded.

Selected base metals were strong although most of the senior issues lost fractionally. Western oils posted a few more gains than losses but showed little trend in narrow-range trading.

Refining oils leaped forward, led by Trans Mountain Pipe Line which climbed $2.50 to a high of $68.

Great Sweet Grass led the improved western oils, adding 35 cents at $3.70. Bailey Selburn was up ¼. Prairie gained 20 cents while Fargo, Canada Oil Lands and Security were up about 15 cents. Canadian Export Gas dropped 35 cents to $6.50. New British Dominion was down 15.

Narrow Range

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices were irregularly higher yesterday in a quiet stock market.

Changes covered a somewhat narrow range with the outside limits running to between 1 and 3 points higher and to between 1 and 2 points lower.

The market opened narrowly mixed and then worked higher in an irregular and quiet manner throughout most of the session.

During the bulk of the day, the steels were steady, motors mixed, coppers lower, rubbers lower, oils mixed, and railroads, chemicals, aircrafts, airlines higher, and radio-televisions higher.

Among higher Canadian stocks, Distillers Seagrams gained 1¼, Hudson Bay Mining 1¼, Walker-Gooderham 1, Aluminum Ltd. ¾, International Nickel ⅝, Dome ⅛ and Canadian Pacific ¼. Granby Mining was lower, off ⅝.

On the American stock exchange higher Canadian issues included Shawinigan, up 1⅝, Great Sweet Grass Oil, up 7-16, Preston East Dome, up 5-16, Brazilian Traction and Scurry-Rainbow Oil, both up ¼, and Molybdenite of Canada, Fargo Oil and Sapphire Petroleums, each up 1-16. Lower were Canadian Marconi, off ¼; and Eureka and Jupiter Oils, both down 1-16.

Firm Spot

MONTREAL (CP)—Stock prices were irregularly higher Thursday at the close of moderate trading on the Montreal and Canadian exchanges. Changes were mainly fractional but scattered issues moved in a point range.

Refining oils were a firm spot as Canadian climbed one point, B. A. ⅞ and Imperial ½. Utility issues were generally steady.

Base metals were mixed in a ½ point range. Steels were softer.

Papers were mixed with Abitibi sliding ½ and Powell River and Fraser climbing ½. In pipeline dealings, Trans Mountain jumped 2½ and Interprovincial ½.

Mining issues were mixed in a 15 cent range.

Trading Dull

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Trading was dull on the Vancouver stock outnumbering gains.

exchange yesterday, with losses

Industrials remained about unchanged, and the oils were neglected. In the mines, Trojan scored a four-cent gain at 75, but Cowichan was down 10 cents at $1.95. Canam lost 10 cents also at $1.25, and Midwest Copper and Pacific Nickel dropped a few cents.

Bank Hikes Capital Stock

TORONTO (CP)—The Bank of Nova Scotia has increased its capital stock by 200,000 shares, H. L. Enman, chairman and president, announced Thursday.

The shares are being offered at $38 a share to shareholders of record May 31 in the ratio of one share for each five shares held.

Par value of shares is $10 and the action will increase paid-up capital from $15,000,000 to $18,000,000.

The balance of the proceeds, $8,400,000, will go to rest account. Earlier this month directors increased rest account by $7,000,000 through transfer of $6,000,000 from tax-paid reserves and $1,000,000 from undivided profits. On completion of the present issue rest account will total $50,400,000.

The new issue, the bank stated, will bring shareholders equity more closely in line with assets which at April 30 totalled $1,253,612,830.

Canadair Builds Giant Aircraft

MONTREAL (CP) — A new multi-million dollar contract for giant CL-28 submarine - hunting planes being built by Canadair Limited for the RCAF has been placed with the company, it was announced Thursday.

The company had previously received a contract for some of the aircraft for the RCAF but the number of planes involved in either the previous order or the new one was not disclosed.

The CL-28 is patterned on the Bristol Britannia, which can carry 100 passengers.

Fire-Swept Coast Area Now Banned

Provincial officials warily eyed the northern forest districts yesterday as Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston slapped a travel and recreational closure on the fire-swept coastal district, as predicted by The Daily Colonist.

Ten new fires broke out in the Vancouver district in the 24 hours up to noon yesterday.

"It's going to be the worst year on record, that's sure," said officials.

Mr. Williston yesterday announced the mounting fire hazard that has plagued the coast district for the past two weeks has moved to Prince Rupert.

He ordered a partial industrial closure.

At the same time the minister closed Vancouver district woods and forests to all travellers.

The closure closely follows the ordering of early shifts in forest industrial operations which will continue in effect until further notice.

The same regulations have been imposed in the watersheds of the Bella Coola valley and the North and South Bentinck arms.

Campers and sportsmen may be banned for the rest of the summer from the crackling-dry forests of southern B.C., said forester D. B. Taylor of the Vancouver forest district.

"Unless we get from one to two inches of rain, the forests will in all likelihood remain closed," Mr. Taylor said. "I am very pessimistic."

Band Collects Quarter-Mile Of Pennies

A quarter-mile of pennies has been collected by Victoria Boys' Band in its drive for a "mile of pennies" to finance uniforms, instruments and music.

More than $200 has been collected by the boys during the week and canvassing of homes by districts will continue next week, band president, John P. Abel said yesterday.

It is hoped to extend the mile, equal to about $840, into $1,000.

The band now has 33 boys from 8 to 14 years of age, taught by bandmaster Dave Dunnet. Only 21 have uniforms. Four clarinets are needed immediately. Campaign funds will be used for these purposes.

The members pay only a nominal $2 monthly fee, receiving instruction, loan of instruments and uniforms.

Clergyman, 56, Retires From Paper Route Job

TORONTO (CP)—Henry Hardy is giving up his newspaper route. The 56-year-old Baptist minister is quitting on doctor's orders.

Mr. Hardy, who took over deliv- [illegible] homes seven years ago when his son was killed in a traffic accident, insterted a letter in his customers' papers last week. It read in part:

"I have, after seven years service to the customers on route 3615, found it necessary to discontinue delivery and hand over the job to [illegible]"

His two sons, Jim, 23, and John, 20, are delivering the papers and making final collections. Next week a 14-year-old boy takes over.

He started delivering papers for [illegible]ember and Mr. Hardy took over his 13-year-old son, Bob, in the permanently. He says:

BETTER NEWS: Reports from Saanich Inlet yesterday were better than they have been for the past two or three weeks, during which fishing was about as poor as it has been at any time for the past three years.

Hall's Boathouse reported that "fishing has picked up a lot." Small springs are the main offering but many boats are bringing back blues. Springs are deep and most anglers are using Strip-Teasers. Veteran Pat McLean brought back three springs yesterday afternoon, getting his action at the turn of the tide. O. Koller limited on Wednesday.

From Brentwood, the Anchorage Boathouse reported that fishing "is excellent," particularly in the mornings and evenings. Here, too, jacksprings are providing most of the action but bigger springs are coming in often enough to raise hopes that it may be the start of a new run.

AT LAST: One would certainly be remiss in his duty if he didn't have a special paragraph or four for two of angling's most persistent types, Chuck Farrar and Al Wright of the Colonist's composing room. They stayed with it despite discouragements which would have made a lawn bowler out of most angling hopefuls. Yesterday, they had their "day" and Chuck, for the first time, will fish in the main fish-off in the ladder derby and Al, also for the first time, has a good chance of making it.

Out at the crack of dawn, as usual, Chuck survived the shock when a 13-pounder hit his Strip-Teaser just as he was letting his line out in Tod Inlet.

After boating the fish, the pair decided it was just a stray and chugged all the way to McKenzie Bay. They started back when it started to rain, decided to give Tod Inlet another try, and Chuck hooked into a 15-pounder, which will put him in the main fish-off beyond any reasonable doubt.

Al got one about six pounds and the pair may be out together in the fish-off. In any event, the snide composing room remarks about their fishing abilities are likely to be stilled. Chuck can hardly wait until he gets back on the job tonight. It was a wonderful day off.

JIMMY MADE IT: Jimmy Creed understandably felt he was under pressure on Wednesday when he guided Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Ross on a Saanich Inlet fishing trip. This was one day he certainly didn't want to return empty-handed.

He didn't, and the six jacksprings which made it a successful trip were somewhat in the nature of a birthday present for Jimmy, who will be 19 this week. They were caught off McMurdy Point on a small Strip-Teaser.

IT CATCHES FISH: The rubber herring-strip (Creme's) which is on the market is catching fish. Babs Jaggard of Lipsett's states that at least 150 dozen have been sold on Lower Vancouver Island and reports are coming in from anglers that it is doing the trick in Rhys Davis' Strip-Teaser.

Not long ago, Fred Mar limited with the artificial strip in Saanich Inlet. Yesterday, Fred Lewis, just back from a trip to Pender Harbor, also reported excellent results.

Using the rubber strip in a Strip-Teaser, Lewis and his party boated four 22-pound springs and five others between 16 and 22 pounds. He said it was producing when other anglers were not doing so well with herring and herring strip.

If it continues to produce, the rubber strip will certainly solve a problem for Rhys Davis, whose biggest problem is making certain there is enough herring strip for his Strip-Teasers.

REELING IN: Fishing has been good off Tent Island, where good-sized springs have been taken consistently for the past two weeks . . . Len Robinson of Chemainus has taken six up to 22 pounds, mostly on a No. 4½ Tom Mack and flasher. . . . Bernie Feeney of Crofton and Jimmy Gammie of Chemainus were others who have scored in the area. . . . The Chemainus Rod and Gun Club will stage its annual salmon derby on Sunday, August 5 with a 14-foot boat complete with a 7½-horsepower outboard as the main prize . . . Fred Wright, fishing out of Creed's Landing, boated a 20-pound spring Wednesday evening but it didn't win him his bronze button or qualify him for the ladder derby fish-off. He had neglected to take out his membership and purchase a derby ticket. . . . Wright got his salmon on a Strip-Teaser off Willis Point using 300 feet of wire and planer. . . . The Strip-Teaser, incidentally, appears to be catching a bigger percentage of salmon than ever in this area. Out of the first 75 spring salmon entered in the Colonist's King Fisherman Contest, the Strip-Teaser has been credited with 38. . . . R. L. Brunia and T. C. Burton, who entered their biggest trout in the King Fisherman Contest last night, report fishing is good in Cameron Lake . . . The annual Qualicum Beach Salmon Derby — attention Hugh Lyons — will be held this year from August 25 to September 2 inclusive . . . and for those who weigh in fish in the King Fisherman Contest, salmon have to weigh five pounds or more and trout at least two pounds before they will be accepted.

Six More Rungs Filled by Anglers

Salmon fishermen hoping to win a berth in the main fish-off of the annual Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association ladder derby have filled 29 of the 50 rungs available in the second week of qualifying fishing.

Six fish, four of them at the Goldstream end, were weighed in yesterday with Chuck Farrar moving into second place on the weekly ladder with a 15-pound, five-ounce spring and Jack Seedhouse grabbing the fourth rung with a 13-pound, 13-ounce catch.

With fishing showing signs of improving, there may be a hectic scramble for qualifying places before this week's contest ends Sunday night. Only 10 of the fish entered are above five pounds and several of the current rung-holders are expected to get bumped off the ladder before weekend anglers get through.

Oak Bay Gains First Triumph

Russell Ashworth fired five goals for Fernwood at Stevenson park Thursday but his starry performance wasn't enough to stop Oak Bay from scoring its first victory of the Greater Victoria Minor Lacrosse Association's bantam league season.

Pat Mulcahy and Dave Isherwood each rapped in three tallies as the Bays earned a 10-8 decision.

In a pee wee exhibition tussle at Memorial Arena Wednesday night, Glen Vickers scored four goals to lead Reds to a 12-7 triumph over Golds.

Scottish Champ Gains Semis By Upsetting Last U.S. Hope

Scottish champion Reid Jack, cheered on by a gallery of more than 4,000 at Troon, upset defending champion Joe Conrad of the United States Thursday to gain the semi-finals of the British Amateur golf championships with two other Scots and an English schoolboy.

Conrad's defeat left the tournament without an American semi-finalist for the first time since the Second World War and gave Scotland an excellent chance for its first victory since Alex Kyle turned the trick in 1939.

Conrad lost out, 1 up, after being three down at one stage of the 36-hole quarter-final. Jack will meet John Beharrell, an 18-year-old English schoolboy who coasted to a 6 and 5 victory over Dr. Frank Deighton of Scotland.

In the other quarter-final matches, George Henderson turned back Herbert Thomson, 2 up, and Leslie Taylor defeated Melville Bucher, 4 and 2.

A Vancouver newspaper—The Province — reported Thursday that the famous Warwick brothers—Grant, Dick and Bill—may purchase 49 per cent of the stock in the New Westminster Royals of the Western Hockey League.

Grant, who retired earlier this month as playing coach of Penticton Vs, said: "We're through in the Okanagan." However, he would neither confirm nor deny the newspaper report.

The Royals now are owned by Mayor Fred Hume of Vancouver, who recently bought out a 50 per cent interest held by Ken McKenzie.

Heavyweight contender Floyd Patterson said Thursday he planned to direct his attack to Hurricane Jackson's body when the two meet in a 12-round heavyweight elimination bout in New York June 8 . . . George Gilchrist, former tackle and guard with Chicago Cardinals, has signed with Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football Union . . . Lorne Worsley, goal-tender of New York Rangers, underwent an operation Thursday on his gimpy right knee and the club was told he would be ready for the training campaign in September.

Nanaimo Boosts Lead At New Westminster

NEW WESTMINSTER — Nanaimo Timbermen increased their Inter-City Lacrosse League lead to five points here Thursday night as they defeated New Westminster Salmonbellies, 12-9, before about 600 fans.

It was the fourth win in a row for the Islanders and their seventh in eight games, but they got a good battle from the trailing Salmonbellies.

New Westminster trailed by 3-2 at the quarter, 7-4 at the half, and only by 8-6 starting the fourth quarter, but the Timbermen couldn't be stopped.

ALLEN, SHERRY STAR

Bobby Allen and Don Sherry continued their battle for the league scoring lead with Sherry, the lithe homebrew who has been such a big help this season, gaining a point.

Allen boosted his total to 31 points by scoring his 22nd, 23rd and 24th goals, while Sherry had two goals and two assists to give him 21-9—30 for the season.

Arnie Dugan took over third place with 26 points by getting his eighth and ninth goals.

Doug McCrory and Ivan Stewart each counted twice for the losers while Fred Duncan had a goal and two assists.

WHL Officials Adopt New Playoff Policy

CALGARY (CP) — Lengthy playoff arrangements in the Western Hockey League, criticized by many fans for many seasons, were reduced as WHL club representatives wound up their two-day annual meeting here Thursday.

Under the new set-up, and under the assumption that Saskatoon Quakers are definitely out of the league, the top three teams in each section will take part in the post-schedule action.

First-place clubs will get a bye in each section. Second and third-place clubs will play a best-of-three series. Winners of these series will meet the first-place squad in a best-of-three final for the section championship.

Last year there were five teams in the Prairie division and first and fourth, second and third, played best-of-five series with the winners meeting in a best-of-seven affair.

In the coast division, the top three clubs played a round-robin series to decide section champions.

President Al Leader announced that should the second and third-place clubs in either section wind up in a tie for the last playoff position, a sudden-death game will be played to decide which team enters the playoffs.

Twice in the last five years a tie has developed for the last playoff position and the club with the most wins advanced to the playoffs. League officials felt a team should not be sidelined when it has the same number of points as another.

Earlier directors adopted a rule to permit use of substitutes when coincidental penalties are handed to players of both teams. The rule was introduced for the first time in hockey history. Directors also approved a system of stiff fines for players who habitually get misconduct penalties, adopted permanently a penalty rule tried out last season and voted to increase the size of the face-off spots to 36 inches.

Leader said the substitutes rule will apply when major or minor penalties are handed out at the same time to players from opposing teams.

The penalty rule adopted permanently provides for the return of a player serving a minor sentence after the opposing team has scored a goal.

BARCELONA, Spain (Reuters)—Germany beat Spain in an international soccer match here Thursday by 5-2 after leading 2-0 at half-time.

Polyettes Lose To Individuals

Individuals, held to six hits, took advantage of 16 bases on balls off three pitchers last night to dump Polyettes of the Inter-City Major Women's Softball League, 13-5, at Central park last night.

Polyettes will meet Arrow Furniture of the Senior "B" men's softball league tonight at Central park in a benefit game for four of their players who were victims of a thief in Vancouver recently.

Nita Woods pitched steadily for the winners last night and her mates gave her a good working margin with three runs in the first inning and six in the third frame.

Braves May Be Ready To Dethrone Dodgers

Pittsburgh Pirates, last and next-to-last in the National League last season, have been stealing headlines because of their sensational rise to the status of early-season pennant contenders, but the impression is growing that Milwaukee Braves are more likely to unseat the Brooklyn Dodgers, if any team does.

Second last year, the Braves have been leading this year almost from the start and have shown the consistency which makes champions. Always credited with enough pitching, they have been flashing all kinds of home-run power of late as they stay ahead in the tough battle.

TIE TWO RECORDS

Yesterday, the Braves banged out five more home runs as they walloped Chicago Cubs, 15-8, to protect their lead. The two circuit smashes by Joe Adcock and the four-masters by Del Crandall, Bill Bruton and Ed Mathews enabled the Braves to tie two records—14 home runs in three consecutive games and 16 home runs in four consecutive games.

Lew Burdette eased along behind the powerful hitting to take a 15-2 lead into the ninth inning, then a couple of errors set up a six-run Chicago rally.

Bobby Thomson, who hit four home runs Wednesday and batted in seven runs, continued his comeback with a triple and single which drove in four teammates.

St. Louis Cardinals regained second place by trimming Cincinnati Redlegs, 9-3, behind the steady pitching of Vinegar Bend Mizell. The fast-balling southpaw had a two-hit shutout when Gus Bell, Ted Kluszewski and Frank Robinson tied a major league record by hitting successive home runs, starting the ninth but lost it.

In the other National League game, Pittsburgh Pirates blanked New York Giants, 3-0, to stay only a game and a half out of the lead. Ron Kline pitched a four-hitter and won it when Gene Freese hit a bases-loaded double in the fifth inning for the only runs. The Pirates only got four hits themselves.

FRIEND VS. SPAHN

The spectacular Pittsburgh club opens a three-game series with the Braves today which could decide just how serious its pennant aspirations might be. Bob Friend will oppose Milwaukee's Warren Spahn as both clubs lead with their aces.

American League action was featured yesterday by the fact that Mickey Mantle was held hitless. However, that didn't stop the New York Yankees, who rolled on with a 9-6 job on the Washington Senators. Two errors set up a five-run sixth inning which broke a 4-4 tie. Boston Red Sox stopped Baltimore Orioles, 4-1, in the other game.

Four-Run Outburst Beats Burnaby, 4-1

Farmer Construction gave Ron Lund four runs in a fifth-inning outburst at Royal Athletic park last night and that was all the batting help the Courtenay right-hander needed as he pitched the Victoria club to a 4-1 Northwestern International Baseball League victory over Burnaby Athletics.

With their first league triumph tucked under their belts, Farmers will be attempting to balance their season's record when they host Seattle in a split doubleheader at Athletic park Saturday.

Farmers, who dropped an 11-inning, 4-3 decision at Burnaby and lost 4-2 at Bellingham last weekend, are expected to find the Greenland's Cafe squad a tough opponent. The Seattleites, with hard-hitting catcher Don Anderson, high school pitching whiz Joe Lains and all-American basketballer Chuck Koon in their lineup, take on Farmers at 2.30 and 7.30 p.m.

STRIKES OUT NINE

Making his first opening start for Victoria, Lund looked a bit shaky in the opening innings but improved as the well-played tussle progressed. The Courtenay righthander, helped out of a couple of jams by alert, errorless fielding, gave up five bases on balls but more than balanced the ledger as he set nine Athletics down on strikes.

Brad Barton, toiling on the hill for Burnaby, was even more stingy than Lund. Barton was touched for only five bingles but he allowed three of them during the fifth frame when a couple of errors by third baseman Gordie Mundle cost him four unearned runs.

Bernie Anderson and Stu Mitchell, each with a fifth-inning double and a single, and Jack Shields collected Victoria's hits.

Next game: Sunday, Foul Bay vs. Nanaimo, 6.30, Stevenson park.

Alex MacDonald's defending Vancouver Island champion Foul Bay club rolled to its fifth straight victory in the Senior "B" Lacrosse League last night, trimming Junior Shamrocks, 11-6, at Stevenson park.

Defeat for the junior Rocks dropped them six points behind Foul Bay and left them tied for second with Jokers, who won their second game at Nanaimo last night by defeating the Jets, 9-3.

Roy Lawrence rammed in four goals in leading the Jokers against the winless Jets. Walt Ackerman scored three times and Whitey Wakelyn scored twice.

Foul Bay, in scoring its second victory over the Rocks this season, led 5-2 at half-time. Bays were outscored 3-2 in the third quarter but fired four goals in the last quarter to pull away. Bob McKee led the winners with three goals.

Los Angeles Angels bowed, 18-13, to Vancouver Mounties in their Pacific Coast Baseball League game yesterday, but Steve Bilko, the Angels' big first-baseman, continued his tremendous home-run spree.

Bilko smashed his 22nd and 23rd homers of the season and his 11th and 12th in the past 11 games, driving in five runs. Los Angeles used 20 of its 21 players, including seven pitchers, in the game.

Meanwhile, Art Schult, returning to action after being out 10 days with a broken hand, slammed three homers to lead Seattle Rainiers to a 4-3, 11-inning victory over San Diego Padres.

Tonight's game: Arrow Furniture vs. Victoria Polyester, Central park, 6:45.

Gorge Hotel and Chinese Students, running one-two in the Senior "A" Men's Softball League race, battled to a 3-3 tie at Central park last night in a game that was called after six innings because of darkness.

The Students, the only team to beat the Gorgemen this season, came from behind a 2-0 deficit in the seventh with a three-run burst, but Gorge tied the score with a single run in their half of the eighth.

The game was a pitcher's battle from the start. Al Wiebe, scoring repeated protests from the crowd that his delivery was illegal, set the Students down on two hits. Coach Bud Ross made his first appearance on the hill for the Students and tossed a neat four-hitter.

Star-Studded Scots To Meet Victoria Club Here Tonight

Victoria United, edged by New Westminster Royals a week ago and blanked by North Shore at Vancouver Tuesday, will make a third try for its first Pacific Coast Summer Soccer League points tonight at Royal Athletic park.

Providing the opposition will be Vancouver St. Andrews, studded with former Scottish players and rated as one of the clubs to beat. The Scots, Vancouver scources insist, play a type of football which will delight discriminating fans.

St. Andrews started with an impressive 4-1 victory over Royals but came a cropper in their second match when the speedy Halecos ran them into the ground, 6-2, in a display of vastly-superior condition.

STARRY LINEUP

St. Andrews line-up includes such ex-Scotts as George Mainwaring, Jack Swan, Joe Johnson, Pete Moran, John Dunn and Finlay Boag.

Johnson, now 31, but not too old for first-class soccer, played with Glasgow Rangers for seven seasons. He was transferred to Lincoln City in 1952 for £5,500 and the Raners paid £2,000 to get him back two years later. He has been in Canada for two years and will start at inside left.

Swan, who will be remembered as Coast Soccer League scoring leader two seasons ago, formerly played with Hamilton Academicals and with Johnson and Stu Crossan gives the Scots a potent trio in the middle of the forward line.

Mainwaring has played with a British Army XI in Austria and Hamilton Academicals; Dunn played for Combuslaing, Scottish junior cup and league champions in 1945 and Boag, a recent arrival from Scotland, played for Hibernians before moving across the Atlantic. Boag, however, is on the injured list.

United has again made some line-up changes. Joe Robbins, who has been one of the club's bright lights at centre-half, will move back to partner fullback Bill Hope and industrious Harry Carruthers has been signed to take over at centre-half.

Up front, where United has had almost all of its troubles, Ken Hibbert moves from left-wing to centre and Timmy Walker takes over Hibbert's old spot.

Game time is 8.15.

St. Andrews—Fred Brikcor, Pete Moran, Arne Landavert, Dave McGruer, Billy Mitchell, George Young, George Mainwaring, Stu Crossan, Jack Swan, Joe Johnson, Logan Tait. Spares—John Dunn, Phil Robbins.

United—Archie McMillan, Bill Hope, Joe Robbins, Harold Holroyd, Harry Carruthers, Willie Hamilton, Ced Robb, Click Clarke, Ken Hibbert, George Wright, Tim Walker. Spares—Bill Abbott, Bill McMillan, Pete Winters, Cec Harrison, Charlie Mills.

ONE DISCOMFORT ANYONE CAN AVOID

Simply by Reaching for a Roll of TUMS

Reach for a roll of Tums in your pocket or purse whenever you feel the slightest discomfort from acid indigestion, heartburn or gas.

Tums' soothing formula with calcium goes so quickly to work to neutralize excess acidity, that no matter where you are your enjoyment of a party or other social gathering is immediately restored.

EVERYBODY sooner or later suffers from acid indigestion. Maybe you feel this way after a hurried breakfast, a rushed lunch or an especially good dinner. This is not a major stomach upset. It is simply that uneasy, queasy feeling you get in your tummy from eating or drinking something which "just doesn't agree with you."

Then, sometimes you feel a burning sensation in your chest (people call it heartburn). The taste of the food you ate at the meal seems to stay [illegible]

Tums are made to relieve these discomforts simply and easily. Tums come in easy-to-carry rolls [illegible] mints, convenient for pocket or purse.

Acid indigestion, you never know when acid indigestion may strike.

Everyone knows about Tums and will recommend your enjoyment. Carbonated [illegible] Although [illegible] Tums [illegible] when indigestion [illegible] Tums [illegible] Three rolls, 36 tablets, for 25¢ everywhere.

Equalize Rates Chamber Asks Power Firm

COURTENAY—The B.C. Power Commission should move into more populated and lucrative areas of the province to lower the burden of cost on districts now receiving its power, the Courtenay-Comox Chamber of Commerce has urged.

A resolution passed by the Chamber says the B.C.P.C. raised its rates because it operates in less densely populated areas of B.C. and asks future cheap generating projects.

It should therefore move into more lucrative areas and develop some of the projects in its larger hydro projects [illegible] surplus power to subsidize the commission's operations as a whole, the resolution stated.

The resolution has been sent [illegible] provincial government, the Associated Chambers of Vancouver Island and [illegible] served by the commission.

NANAIMO (BUP) — The mystery of where salmon go after they leave the rivers will be probed by Pacific Biological Station scientists, who left Nanaimo by fishing vessel for an offshore summer survey.

Two boats, one of which is already at sea, will operate up to 1,000 miles off shore with mile-long nylon nets.

PORT ALBERNI—Services will be held here Saturday for Mrs. [illegible] Jenkins, 83, a resident of this city for the past six months, who died in West Coast General Hospital Wednesday.

Mrs. Jenkins, a native of Ontario, came from Vancouver to make her home with her daughter Mrs. E. [illegible], 713 Eleventh Avenue South.

Besides her daughter she is survived by her brothers in Ontario and Edmonton, a sister Miss D. McLeod, Vancouver, and three grandchildren.

Rev. A. E. Cooke will officiate at services in Stevens Funeral Home Saturday at 2 p.m. and at the graveside in Greenwood Cemetery.

No Steady Job

NANAIMO—A 30-day jail term was given to a man here yesterday who said he had not held a steady job for the last two years.

Joseph McPherson, 27, pleaded guilty to begging on Commercial street. Police said the accused was seen panhandling on Tuesday evening and was told to leave town.

McPherson was again seen begging. "A young person gave him 50 cents and five minutes later he was found drinking beer," police said.

The accused told Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts that his home was in Toronto. For the last two years he had been in B.C. He admitted not holding a steady job since leaving eastern Canada.

Requests for a suspended sentence and a promise to leave Nanaimo by the accused were dismissed by the magistrate.

"I think it is disgraceful for a man who is 27 years old, physically fit, to not have a permanent job for two years," the magistrate said.

PARKSVILLE — Cattle entries from as far north as the Courtenay-Comox district and from Sooke to the south have been entered in the 12th annual Red and White Ayrshire Show Saturday in the community park.

The show will be opened at 10 a.m. by William Adrian of the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association and stock judge will be Ian Paton of Ladner. Norman Griffin of CKWX Farm Broadcast will be master of ceremonies in the ring. Calf club entries will be a special feature of the show.

Added attractions will include an industrial exhibit outside and in the community hall afternoon tea, a musical program, floral displays and handicrafts exhibits. On the grounds there will be an amusement area providing games and contests.

The show is being jointly sponsored by the Vancouver Island Ayrshire Association and the Mt. Arrowsmith Branch of the Canadian Legion.

Jobs Plentiful

DUNCAN—Jobs were more plentiful during May in the Duncan employment district, according to the monthly report issued by R. S. Robinson, employment service manager, but the situation for the future is considered uncertain because of the forest closure.

The general situation during the month was one of almost full employment with a shortage existing in men skilled in specialized jobs in the logging and mill brackets. Following the return to work after the long winter shutdown it became difficult to find any type of skilled logger.

There were many vacancies in sawmills and even though many of these vacancies were of a casual nature eventually it became difficult to find good sawmill workers, let alone skilled personnel.

PORT ALBERNI—Old Age Pensioners' Organization of this district will hold a tag day Saturday, June 9. From the proceeds the organization expects to make a donation to Alberni Valley Memorial Home Society's project, a low-rental housing development for senior citizens.

Members of the organization are asking for volunteers to help with tagging.

Mrs. Pearl Corbett and Mrs. G. Taylor will be delegates from the local organization to the B.C. convention of OAPO to be held in North Burnaby, June 20 and 21.

The group plans to hold the annual picnic at Little Qualicum Falls on July 11.

House Adrift

PARKSVILLE—Early risers here Wednesday saw a house sitting on the edge of the beach as if it had drifted in with the tide.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Trelear of Port McNeil at the north end of Vancouver Island had decided to move to Parksville and brought their home with them.

It was towed here on a float by the seine boat "Lake Como" of Alert Bay with Spence Hason in charge in 36 hours. The house is being moved to a lot near Seely road here by Heyes & Wharton of Nanaimo.

PORT ALBERNI—The city can accept no more commitments for sidewalk construction this year, city council has decided.

Projects involved in local improvement petitions already accepted, will keep city crews busy and it was decided not to undertake additional sidewalk work through private contractors.

LADYSMITH—Staff changes announced by the school board of District 67 include resignation of Ladysmith High school economics teacher Alisa Dickson and a year's leave of absence from the same school for Harold Reatker.

George Olsson will transfer from Ladysmith elementary to fill the vacancy left by Mr. Reutke. Emile Bletzens, Ladysmith, has been appointed to the district teaching staff.

The board has also decided to have a site adjacent to the North Oyster school surveyed with a view to purchase. Test of a well on the property showed sufficient water to supply the water short school.

In another area which faced a serious water shortage, Saltair, the board is finalizing purchase of property to provide a good supply for Mt. Brenton school.

Census Takers Will Be Calling For Your Data

Some 16,000 enumerators, 52 of them in the Victoria electoral district, today begin the major part of the first half-decade national census in Canada.

Officials in Ottawa estimated yesterday that the census will cost $6,000,000 and predicted that it will give the country an official population of around 16,000,000.

That would be an increase of 11 per cent or 2,000,000 persons over the last full census in 1951, which cost $9,000,000.

Canada is using the "[illegible]" [illegible]

FEWER QUESTIONS

Reduced cost is due to the fact that less information is sought. Number of questions in cities has been cut from 29 to seven, in farm areas from 200 to 76.

"Some things change only slowly, such as religion, origin and education," a spokesman said. "An enumeration of them once in 10 years is adequate.

"The census still will yield [illegible] business and other interests," he said.

In Victoria enumerators are primarily housewives and retired persons who receive five cents for each name they obtain. They began work yesterday evening by totalling number of persons in hotels, motels, guest houses and other centres where transients reside.

Monty Lavishes Praise On QORs-You're Superb

BY PETER BRUTON

Canada's Queen's Own Rifles is "a superb regiment, as good as any I've seen," according to Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery.

"And I've been in the army a very long time," he told 350 officers and men of the 2nd battalion QOR following an inspection at Gordon Head camp yesterday.

He is here on a two-day visit.

Earlier in the day the victor of El Alamein sparked a press conference with [illegible] replies to reporters' questions [illegible] interview.

His remarks were tempered only slightly by an air of cordiality.

[illegible] arrived at Patricia Bay airport [illegible] RCAF transport. About 50 persons were on hand [illegible]

[illegible]

Nothing had happened in the realm of science in the last few years that would do away with very good, very highly trained and highly disciplined land armies, he said.

Another reporter said the United Nations had announced that the North Koreans were building up their forces. Could this be an indication of more war and if so how could it be countered?

"United Nations!" retorted Monty. "What do they know about it? Are they good people?"

Anyhow, he said, the buildup of communist forces in North Korea "has nothing to do with me. I'm delighted I'm a NATO man."

The field marshal added that if there was any aggression anywhere he was all for dropping an A-bomb, an H-bomb, or the biggest bomb available to stop it.

Would that be popular in Canada? he asked.

"Would it end the war?" a reporter countered.

NATO Unaffected

"It's difficult to say whether it would end the war but I'm for not having any aggression anywhere," he said. "Of course I don't know whether the politicians would agree."

Despite the anti-British riots [illegible] Greek-inspired rebels on Cyprus there has been no change in the set-up of NATO in which Greece, Britain and Turkey are all members, he continued.

"What's going on in the eastern part of the Mediterranean is political," he said with finality. "Of course, we on the military side are very anxious to clear it up."

He said he was not in favor of evacuating civilians in case of a major enemy attack.

The questions then turned to the matter of "squirrel-headed" [illegible] Harry Truman [illegible] general [illegible] at Salerno during the last war.

[illegible]

"If there were any squirrel-headed generals they were mostly American," he continued. "I should like to ask Truman if all the generals were squirrel-heads why did he continue to keep them when he became president?"

As the field marshal left the airport one of the spectators, Mrs. H. Lee Wright, 600 [illegible] drive, shouted: "Good old [illegible]!"

He stopped and spoke to Mrs. Lee-Wright who explained that her late husband, Lieut.-Col. Harold Lee-Wright [illegible] had attended the same [illegible] the field marshal [illegible]

[illegible] the 1st Battalion of the regiment in Calgary Wednesday.

"Together you constitute a magnificent regiment, quite magnificent, and you can tell anyone you like I said so," he said affably.

The Canadian Army had never failed to do anything asked of it and never failed to do it well.

"I should know. I was the top guy," he said.

The need for land armies had not disappeared, he told the troops.

Concluded the field marshal:

"You are a superb regiment, as good as any I've seen and I've been in the army a very long time."

The battalion gave him a rousing send-off with three cheers.

Today Field Marshal Montgomery will call on Mayor Percy Scurrah and Premier W. A. C. Bennett and tour the city. This afternoon he will visit Royal Roads Canadian Services College.

"This parade today I think has been awfully good," the field mashal told the men. "In fact, it's first class. This parade has been quite magnificent."

He explained he had inspected

Arms Thieves To Hear Fate In One Week

James A. Rigby, 21, no fixed address, yesterday was remanded until June 7 for sentence in Saanich police court. He is charged with unlawful possession of an offensive weapon.

He had earlier pleaded guilty [illegible] Rigby was arrested after police investigation of break-ins and theft of ammunition and firearms from two Victoria stores and a later Saanich incident on Cedar Hill road where Ben Gillett, 113 Medina, reported he was threatened with a gun.

Charged jointly in city court with Rigby on one of the two firearm and theft charges was Ayvette Herbert, 22, of 3[illegible] Flint place.

[illegible] will be sentenced June 6 [illegible] Frank Moore of Jordan River [illegible] committed for trial on a charge of firing a weapon with intent to cause bodily harm was refused bail by Supreme Court [illegible]. Moore has elected for assize court trial.

He was committed from special police court following an incident at Jordan River on May 11 when boom men claimed they were fired at by a person with a shotgun.

The application by counsel [illegible] A. Beers was opposed by crown counsel A. de B. McPhillips.

Schools May Free Army of Pickers

Decision to release 300 to 400 14-year-old students of grades 7 and 8 to pick the rapidly ripening strawberry crop on the Saanich peninsula is expected from Ray Williston, minister of education, within 48 hours.

John Garrard of the national employment service yesterday [illegible] expected to education department [illegible] for [illegible] growers pick a bumper crop.

The national employment service made its request before Harold Campbell, deputy minister of education, and department officials yesterday and the request was forwarded to the minister.

"We should know the [illegible] later decision within a couple of days," said Mr. Garrard. "We want the children of these grades, such of them as will be permitted, to fill the gap to June 25 when promoted grade 12 students are expected to be released."

Jaycees Launch New Plan

Cadillac Prize Is Lure

Auction To Raise Strait Swim Stakes

Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a mammoth Dutch auction in a final effort to raise funds to be offered as a strait race prize.

According to plans currently in the sketching stage, the lure to catch the Juan de Fuca eye will be a 1956 Cadillac sport coupe and three automatic cars [illegible].

The new-born project designed to supplement a bogged down pledge drive among city business houses is scheduled to start operations Monday when the first "bids" or "pledges" on the gifts will be accepted.

Swim committee chairman Neil Neufeld outlined the project for the Jaycee membership Wednesday and the plan was unanimously endorsed as the "only hope" to raise funds in time to lure the continent's top marathon swimmers to enter a proposed Juan de Fuca race.

Suggested time for a winner-take-all sweepstake race from Victoria to Port Angeles was late in August or September.

Winding up of the Dutch auction will be June 29 when the gifts will be presented to fortunate "bidders."

"We feel that this gives us just enough time to inform the swimmers that the [illegible]," Mr. Neufeld said yesterday. Anticipated sum from the "sale" [illegible] between $10,000 and $15,000.

Raising money through a Dutch auction has proven very successful in the past in other cities as well as Victoria," he said. "I think we've got a good thing."

Operation of the "auction" which will be [illegible] by radio station CKDA, was outlined as follows:

Beginning Monday, "pledges" of a dollar or "multiples of a dollar" will be accepted by special telephone-answering staffs at two phone numbers which will be announced later.

Callers can submit as many pledges as they wish.

In addition Jaycees will be located at specific points in the area so that those in cars can easily deposit their pledges and pick up receipts.

Mr. Neufeld said that the new scheme would not mean that the earlier campaign would be cancelled.

"We're still going to encourage persons to pledge directly for the fund," he said. "And we'll permit those who have already pledged to switch their pledges to the Dutch auction if they wish."

Only about $1,500 was pledged in the original campaign. Businessmen were asked to pledge to the prize, but were required to back up the pledge only if a swimmer managed to cross the strait on the date of the race.

"The new plan will mean tangible results," he said. "If no swimmer makes it this year the fund can be used again next year."

So far only a handful of proven distance swimmers have indicated interest in the mass strait bid this year. Two of the top contenders, Bert Thomas and Cliff Lumsden, stated they would prefer a match race excluding others.

However, Jaycees have high hopes of getting some of the top names in the marathon world to compete here "if the prize is large enough."

"It's a terrific way to get publicity for our city," he said. "Already we've received publicity around the world from the efforts so far to stage a mass swim. If it is successful, Victoria could very easily become the third corner in a triple crown of North American marathon swimming (along with Atlantic City and Lake Ontario)."

Founder of Women's Law Firm Watches Daughter Get Degree

MONTREAL (BUP)—Mrs. Wilhelmina Holmes, founder of Canada's first all-women law firm, interrupted a busy schedule to see her daughter get her law degree [illegible] B.C.L. from McGill University only eight years after her mother's graduation. Mrs. Holmes enrolled at McGill after 17 years marriage with the approval of her engineer husband.

The mother-daughter law team is [illegible] however, Diane will not [illegible] of Holmes and Gilchrist. She and classmate [illegible] Dunton plan to marry in the summer.

Mrs. Holmes said in an interview she hoped her daughter would join the firm after raising a family but there's no opening for Dunton.

"We've proved women lawyers can make out on their own. We don't want to take a man in now," the plump, smartly dressed lawyer explained. She started the firm with Joan Gilchrist in 1951 and they now have a junior partner.

Women were not admitted to the Quebec bar until [illegible], and Mrs. Holmes said their acceptance was slow.

"Those who joined big firms were kept in junior positions and given all the joe jobs. When I graduated my husband said, 'you're too old for that sort of thing.' He offered to pay my office rent for six months, but all it needed was one month," she said.

The blue-eyed lawyer, who is in her 40's, specializes in domestic relations law [illegible] separations, divorces and adoptions. It helps being older and married [illegible] and spends a lot of time in court.

"The judges are very gallant, especially the French-speaking ones," she said. "They almost apologize when they give a judgment against you."

What's Cooking! By Frances Thompson

Victoria Women are Smartest When Making Fish Purchases

"Women in Victoria are the smartest fish buyers in the world." So said my extremely helpful fish dealer. Rather a strong statement [illegible] puts two fish side by side in the window the [illegible] can tell in a minute which one was last out of the water. Frankly, I don't think I could but then it's a very long time since I lived on an island.

Anyway, as we said last week, let's take full advantage of fresh fish as each comes available. Now is the time to buy halibut which has just this week made its appearance.

The season for fresh halibut is short. Some years ago [illegible] there was a danger of halibut being fished out of these Pacific waters because it is very easy to catch. So Canada and the U.S.A. set up an [illegible] commission to conserve it. As a result we now get halibut [illegible] due to the fact that each area where it is found is [illegible]

You certainly live and learn in this particular part of the world. For instance I didn't know that this particular fish runs from three pounds to two hundred and fifty pounds in weight —did you? And according to my trusted fish dealer it is at its best if of medium size — from fifteen to thirty pounds. He also told me that the most flavourful part is the neck but that fishermen usually kept this for themselves.

[illegible]

salt and pepper. Place on greased [illegible] from [illegible] hot oven [illegible] 450 degrees. Allow ten minutes per inch thickness of fish [illegible] the cooking period.

BAKED HALIBUT

Allow ⅓ pound for each serving: 1 slice halibut 2 inches thick; [illegible] tablespoons lemon juice; 2 small onions, finely sliced; 4 slices bacon. Wipe off the fish, place it in a well greased baking pan and season with salt and pepper. Lay the slices of onion on top, then the slices of bacon. Bake in a hot oven 450 degrees, allowing ten minutes per inch thickness.

Perhaps the favourite way of cooking halibut is by steaming it. We're going to do that we hope you read our article last Friday on the use of parchment paper. In this case lots of parsley sauce is a must. A newly wed friend told me that she did not know the proportions for her, and others like her, here are the basic ingredients.

ped parsley, 2 tablespoons chopped [illegible]

Soak gelatine in the cold water for a few minutes. [illegible] Pour into a mould which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmould on to your choice of salad greens and serve with additional mayonnaise.

TARTARE SAUCE

By request—

This is the quickest way of making it. Usually associated with fried fish, it is equally good as a dressing for fish salads. 1 tablespoon chopped olives, 1 tablespoon chopped capers, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons chopped [illegible] pickle, 1 cup mayonnaise. Combine ingredients just before serving.

Green Organdie For Beach Frolic

By MAUREEN DUFFUS

I love these press releases from Paris.

They tell you how to be fashionable.

At least, they tell you what is fashionable, implying that if you follow these suggestions ... voila cherie ... la plus belle chick ... I mean chic ... this side of the Seine.

"It's fashionable," says this informative bulletin, "to choose, for beach wear, the new pale green color which Genevieve [illegible] ... the mermaids frolicking on the sands in her organdie arm-length tunic, softly draped round the neckline and wonderfully feminine."

Also for the beach ... "It's fashionable to wear a gold anklet adorned with tiny gold bells." Just ring the bells at the life guard as you go down for the third time.

I'm not sure if these are for the beach or not, but the release says: "It's fashionable to have a series of minute and romantic pillows quaintly shaped for foot, hand or neck rest and bedecked with ribbonings of eyelet embroideries and lace." Go one further ... have some for Fifi le poodle franchais, a-rest, why not?

"It's fashionable ... to wear longer hair so as to be able to change your hairdo several times during the day ..."

Un moment! Do you go to the hairdresser every time or does monsieur le coiffeur come to you?

Surely one doesn't do it oneself. Especially the garden party affair ... which requires the pinning of fruit — cherries, tiny apples and raspberries ... on top of the head like a crown.

It reads as if you should use real fruit. I don't know.

You have the picture now? Green organdie tunic as you frolic on the beach, gold anklet with bells, fruit left over from the garden party.

The hair-changing strikes me as being the real problem, though, unless you could count the transformation brought about by wind, sun and salt water after a day with the smart set on the beach as one of the required changes.

Strangely enough, Paris also sends a recipe for Frederick's Duck because it says, to be fashionable you must also be able to cook in your own kitchen the famous duck you usually eat in the Tour d'Argent restaurant.

It's not easy, madam. In fact, to me it seems just a little on soupcon on the impossible side. Still, in case you're home from beach and garden party and have your hair appropriately rearranged for the kitchen in time ...

Voici le recette.

Brown the duck in a medium oven and take out the minute it is golden. Carve the legs off and cut the remaining meat in small slivers placed on a silver platter. Then you need a special machine to crush the rest of the bird, meat and bones, so that a thick juice made of sauce, meat and blood pours down on the slivers. Add some lemon juice to prevent the blood from curdling, one glass of port, one glass of cognac, salt and pepper. Place the silver platter on low heat and start turning the sauce on the meat and on the legs of the duck. The sauce must gradually thicken and it is ready when it turns a beautiful chocolate color. 25 minutes on low heat. Serve piping hot.

P.S. If you think this doesn't leave time for a rest ... remember please, it's no longer fashionable to rest, anyway.

"New method, breathing oxygen through nose, mouth and skin saves weeks of relaxing."

In Paris, of course, there's a place for this.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Honeymoon Up-Island

The marriage of Lynne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Johnson, Cedar Hill Cross road, to Lyle Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Johnson, Gosworth road, took place quietly Saturday evening, May 19, at St. Luke's church with Reverend Canon Frederick Pike officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The youthful bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a ballerina-length gown of white embossed nylon worn with short-sleeved bolero jacket; her fingertip veil of illusion net was caught to the head with a coronet of lace. She carried a white testament encrusted with pearls and having streamers knotted with stephanotis.

Miss Ruth Johnson, maid of honor, and Miss Catherine Johnson, junior bridesmaid, for her sister, were attired alike in pale pink crystalette styled with square neck, short sleeves and ballerina-length skirts. Their floral headdresses were composed of stephanotis and white feathered carnations and they carried Colonial bouquets of the same white blooms.

Mr. Robin May assisted the groom, and ushering members of the families to their places were Mr. Bob and Mr. Ken Johnson, brothers of the groom. At the small reception following the service Mr. Frank Johnson of Vancouver proposed the toast to his niece.

Driving up the Island for their honeymoon the bride wore a light beige wool suit with copper brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The couple will reside in Victoria.

Back Not Front Main Worry In Swim Suit

DENVER (AP) — When a girl buys a new bathing suit she generally thinks about what it will do for her bosom line. What she really should think about is what it does for her posterior.

This comes from Dorothy Stew, fashion consultant for a swim suit firm, who says manufacturers are concerned because American girls are getting hippier. "A 37-inch hip size is getting all too common," she insisted.

"The biggest problem confronting women today is not diet, but exercise," she said.

The South District Local Association of Guides and Brownies will meet at the home of Mrs. J. H. Bruce, 545 Cornwall street, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 5. Mrs. A. Westinghouse will speak on Brownie work and show slides.

Cordova Bay Bazaar June 6

The annual summer bazaar and tea will be held at St. David's-by-the-Sea, Wednesday, June 6, under auspices of the Women's guild. The affair will be opened by Mrs. B. P. Hurd, president of the Diocesan Women's Auxiliary to the Anglican Church in Canada, at 2:30 p.m. There will be stalls of needlework, superfluities, plants, home cooking and candy. Mystery parcels will also be for sale. Tea will be served all afternoon.

Personal Mention

Mr. J. MacPherson, well-known city musician and band leader at a supper club in Vancouver, was the weekend guest of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Fall, Cowichan Bay, B.C., and his mother, Mrs. W. A. MacPherson, 1133 Leonard street, Victoria, B.C., prior to his departure next week for London, Ont., where he will visit his sister, Sister Mary [illegible]. From London he will travel to New York City where [illegible]

6 IN MEMORIAM

FRAZER—In loving memory of a dear mother, Emilie Frazer, who passed away June 1, 1955, and dad, George Frazer, who passed away Oct. 5, 1941.

Memories are treasures no one can steal;
Death leaves a wound no one can heal.
A sigh, a thought brings many a tear
Of the one I miss and loved so dear.

Ever remembered by your daughter, Clara.

TV Talk

By ROY PARRETT

One of television's best offerings is "Victory at Sea," the 26 week documentary which begins tonight on CBUT. The dramatic series tells the story of Allied navies in World War Two.

Combat films of all nations, including those of former enemy countries, make up the sensational NBC television series. Characteristic of the whole 26 chapters is its grim realism. The battles seen in "Victory at Sea" are the real thing.

Although the outstanding programs have already been seen on local TV, most viewers are looking forward to the return. The musical score is a masterpiece as well.

Tonight's episode introducing the series is entitled "Design for War" and it will be seen on channel 2 at 10 p.m.

PAINT UP TIME — With the warm weather, many homeholders are wielding the paintbrush outdoors. At least one artistic TV fan blacked out his pictures with paint. He painted the TV lead-in wires to match his house gutters. The paint shorted out the signal, leaving him with a blank screen. Only the cutting out of the painted section on the lead-in restored his pictures.

"In color would they be purple?"

"The Milliner from Medicine Hat" is the Roy Rogers adventure picture on channel 2 at 5 tonight.

Mickey Rooney stars in "Little Pal" the channel 12 drama at 6:30.

Cavalcade of Sports features a bout between Larry Boardman and Frankie Ryff on channel 4 at 7.

Spring Byington stars as an Ozark mountain lady in "Great Wild World" channel 5 play at 8.

"Operation Flypaper" is the title of the Science Fiction Theatre drama on channel 12 at 8.

A farmer light-heartedly sets out to fight an express highway in "Eminent Domain" 8:30 story on channel 4.

The Canadian Institute of Public Opinion is represented in tonight's "Graphic" on channel 2 at 9.

"Big Story" on channel 4 at 9 tells of the disappearance of a young girl on vacation.

A job in a diner leads to involvement in a high jacking ring on the channel 11 drama at 9:30.

Jalopy races from Hollywood are seen on channel 12 at the same time.

Paul Douglas stars in the channel 2 drama, "Man in the Black Robe" at 9:30.

"Victory at Sea" begins a 26 week run on channel 2 at 10 tonight.

Drama at sea is also seen on channel 12 at 10:30 when the movie "Wreck of the Hesperus" is seen.

The dire need for funds makes a man a clever forger on "Code 3" channel 5 story at 11.

Sports reports by Ted Reynolds are heard on channel 2 following the CBC News at 11.

Edmond O'Brien stars in the channel 2 movie, "D.O.A." at 11:15.

Joel McCrea and Lionel Barrymore are seen in the channel 11 movie, "One Man's Journey" at 11:30.

Steve Allen has top-name stars as guests on his 11:30 show on channel 4.

Rita Del Mar's Daily Astrology

FRIDAY, JUNE 1

Today's quotation: "Experience keeps a dear school, but fools will learn in no other."—Benjamin Franklin

Friday for everyone: Be conscientious in the fulfillment of regular tasks, duties and responsibilities. Be tactful in social dealings. Maintain accord. Protect assets, belongings.

Look for Your Birthdate and Birthsign Below

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Restore sense of balance or work out difficulties and tasks. Sidestep social snares.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Keep congenial doings in the background and be cautious where friendships and finances merge.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Defer pleasures; put obligations first. Keep out of difficulties with olders and higher ups.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Exercise your sense of discernment in transit, plans, decisions. Recheck decisions.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Recheck before making changes, moves. Employ added graciousness, sympathy.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Circumvent discord in transactions with the fair sex or public by being dutiful, calm and alert.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Fulfill employment, service health matters, conscientiously. Keep clear of discord.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Make sure that any revision in sentiments is well grounded. Take no chances especially regarding love or money.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Watch developments in your vicinity, household, office or family. Get a change of scene.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Try to ease stresses or friction. Use care en route. Be extra tactful in community doings.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Adjust the budget, effect savings. Be prudent about cash outlays for recreation, dear ones.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Attend to routine personal affairs, contacts. Steer clear of upsets, complications.

Planning ahead: Good for sociability, entertaining, etc., June 1 evening, of 5, 8, 9.

NOTICE is hereby given to creditors and others to send in to Douglas Charles Beveridge, c/o Messrs. Copeman & Henderson, 404 Central Building, 620 View Street, Victoria, British Columbia, the executor of the will of the above-named Elizabeth Lawton Beveridge, deceased, their claims against the estate of the said deceased before the 30th day of June, 1956, after which date the said executor will distribute the assets of the said deceased amongst the parties entitled thereto, having regard to the claims of which such executor has then notice.

DATED at Victoria, B.C., this 19th day of May, 1956.

DOUGLAS CHARLES BEVERIDGE,
Executor,
by Copeman & Henderson,
his Solicitors.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "TENDER FOR OVERHAUL OF DREDGE P.W.D. No. 303", will be received in the office of the Secretary until 3.00 p.m. (E.D.S.T.), WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27, 1956.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at the office of the Chief Engineer, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, Ontario; at the office of the District Engineer, Begg Building, 1110 West Georgia Street, Vancouver 5, B.C., and at the Post Office at Victoria, B.C.

To be considered each tender must be accompanied by a security in the form of a certified cheque or bonds as specified in the form of tender and made on or according to these forms and in accordance with the conditions set forth therein.

The Department, through the Chief Engineer's office (H. & R.), or through the undersigned, or through the office of the District Engineer at Vancouver, B.C., will supply specification. For any further information needed by intending bidders, application should be made to the Department representative at the District Engineer's Office, 1110 West Georgia Street, Vancouvr, B.C.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

ROBERT FORTIER,
Chief of Administrative Services and Secretary.

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, May 18, 1956.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed Tenders for the general contract, including all trades, are invited by the Board of School Trustees of School District No. 65 (Cowichan) for the construction of a secondary school at South Cowichan, consisting of six classrooms, gymnasium-auditorium, home economics, industrial arts, and auxiliary rooms.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the School Board Office, Canada Avenue, Duncan, B.C., on or after 12 noon, May 26, 1956, on payment of a deposit of $100.00 for each set, which deposit will be refunded on return of the plans and specifications in good order within seven days of the closing of tenders.

A certified cheque in the amount of 10% of the contract price drawn upon a chartered bank of Canada and made payable to the Board of School Trustees, School District No. 65 (Cowichan) must accompany each tender, and shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines to enter into a contract if called upon to do so.

On award and signing of the contract, the successful tenderer shall furnish to the owners a guarantee bond in the amount of 50% of the contract price, covering the faithful performance and completion of the contract, on receipt of which all bid deposits will be returned.

Tenders must be delivered to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of School Trustees of School District No. 65 (Cowichan) at Canada Avenue, Duncan, B.C., in sealed envelopes plainly marked "Tender for South Cowichan Secondary School" to arrive by 4.00 p.m., Wednesday, June 20, 1956.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted and the Board reserves the right to reject any and all tenders without explanation. No tenders having any qualifying clauses whatsoever will be considered.

G. F. DYSON,
Secretary-Treasurer,
School District No. 65 (Cowichan)

Told To Spy on DEW Line

Canadian Reds Get Marching Orders

OTTAWA (NANA)—In a series of new orders issued by Moscow the Canadian Communist party has been ordered to do its best to damage Canadian-American relations.

The party also was ordered to spend less time and money on gathering military information for the Soviet espionage network that is still known to exist throughout Canada.

Instead, Canada's Reds have been told to concentrate on collecting all possible information on the distant early warning (Dew) line and the mid-Canada line, the two transcontinental radar "fences" being built in the far north as a protection against ... from Russia over the polar cap.

Economic intelligence for Russia on Canada's rapidly expanding and mining developments also has been given increased priority.

Moscow's secret orders were delivered to Tim Buck, Canada's top Red, a noted Stalinist, during his recent humble-pie pilgrimage to the Kremlin.

Information on the content of the orders comes from the Canadian security agencies, whose highly successful infiltration of Red organizations is a perennial nightmare for the ulcerated party leadership.

Security officials here indicated their belief that a major reason for the new orders was that Moscow—faced with increasingly effective anti-Communist measures in the United States—was hoping to step up flanking activity in Canada in the north and Central America in the south.

With the new commands Moscow has paid Canada the doubtful compliment of acknowledging the Dominion's fast-rising importance in world affairs. The Canadian party's place in the order of priority of national Communist parties has, in effect, been moved up several notches by the Kremlin's increased attention to it.

Observers here expect the new directives to be backed up by a considerable intensification of Russian smile-and-handshake propaganda directed toward Canada from Moscow, particularly in the cultural field.

Buck returned from Moscow with his title of top Red still intact. He now enjoys a dubious—and these days precarious—distinction of having been the Moscow-recognized head of a national Communist party longer than any other Red chieftain.

SEALED TENDERS

For the supply of one only cemetery tractor truck with one-yard dump body and one only seventy-two inch (72") riding power mower will be received at the office of the Board of Cemetery Trustees of Greater Victoria up to five o'clock, Tuesday, June nineteenth. All tenders should be addressed to Mr. L. Treloar, secretary, Board of Cemetery Trustees of Greater Victoria, R.R. No. 2, Royal Oak, B.C. and clearly marked "Tender for Equipment." For further particulars regarding specifications call Mr. Knight at 9-3213. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Sea-Going Mission Will Rally in City

Board of the Columbia Coast Mission, which serves 10,000 persons in 225 B.C. coastal communities, will hold its annual meeting Tuesday in Christ Church Cathedral, Memorial hall under the chairmanship of Archbishop Harold E. Sexton.

A new mission hospital ship, the Columbia, is now under construction at Star Shipyards, New Westminster, at a cost of over $80,000, fully equipped.

Another new ship, the 46-footer John Antle, is to be constructed at a cost of about $40,000. The present John Antle will take the name Rendezvous.

The new Columbia is being built at almost the same spot where the first Columbia was built in 1905.

Attending the board meeting from the diocese of British Columbia will be Canon F. E. M. Tomalin of St. Matthias'; Hugh L. Henderson of Victoria, and Archdeacon A. E. Hendy of Nanaimo.

Among Mainland members of the board are Rt. Rev. Godfrey P. Gower, Bishop of New Westminster, and Rev. Alan D. Green, superintendent of the mission.

Vocalist sings song of praise

"An entertainer is constantly in the public eye and must be both well groomed and fashionable", says Shelia Craig, well-known vocalist of stage, radio and T.V. "That's why I always use KIWI, it keeps my shoes smart and new-looking so much longer."

KIWI gives much more than just a surface shine. Its richer, more costly waxes go deep down into the pores of the leather, preserve and keep shoes supple and new looking. Why not get KIWI and keep your shoes gleaming like new. KIWI comes in shades to match all shoes.

Sidney Offers Saanich Board Joint Office Space in Village

SIDNEY—Possible saving to the taxpayers of Saanich school district No. 63 of more than $30,000 was seen in an offer made to the school board by Sidney Village Commission Tuesday night.

The village has purchased a building from Crown Assets Disposal Corporation for use as a village office, but at present lack a suitable site for it.

"If the school board will agree to allow placing of the building on land now owned by the board in Sidney, $7,000 will easily pay for moving the building from the airport, putting it on a foundation and furnishing it," said Commissioner M. R. Eaton, who presented the proposal to the board.

"There will be room available for both organizations plus a very good board room, something we both lack at this time," he said. "The village would have 250 square feet of office space, and the school board 300 feet.

"If we were to build separate structures, I doubt if we could do it for less than $20,000 each," Commissioner Eaton told the board.

Four Island Soldiers Will Serve in Saigon

Four Vancouver Island men are among 92 servicemen who will be flown to Saigon by RCAF during July, August and September.

They are Sgt. Jack Williams, of Prospect Lake; Maj. Joseph Fox, 242 Wildwood; Capt. John Robertson, 318 Irving, and Maj. Kenneth Kennedy, 1037 St. David.

The contingent will replace a similar number of officers and men who have completed their tour of duty as advisers in Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

The University of Naples in Italy was founded in 1224.

How would you play this hand as declarer if West opened the two of spades and, when you played low from dummy, East put in the nine-spot?

This deal is from an Anglo-American challenge team-of-four match. In the other room the American North-South pair reached three no-trump. Diamonds did not break and that contract went down two tricks.

In describing the play at four spades in his story in Bridge World Magazine, Terence Reese commented on the defensive error that allowed him to make his contract. Modestly, Reese — one of England's if not the world's best card players—virtually ignored his own fine play that set the stage for East's mistake.

Charles Goren's trump lead had made it hopeless for South to attempt to ruff a club in dummy. When he surrendered a club trick the opponents would lead another trump. So, since he had to lose at least one trump trick anyway, Reese let East hold the first trick.

A heart lead to attack dummy's re-entry would have been East's best return. A trump lead would also have been successful. But East couldn't know South's hand. He feared that the diamond suit could be brought home, so he played to force dummy to lead one of the red suits. He cashed the club ace and led another club, dummy ruffing West's king. But South got back with the king of diamonds, drew trumps, and conceded a trick to East's queen of clubs. Declarer's losing hearts were parked on dummy's top diamonds.

Winning Points: If you must lose a trick, try to do so before the opponents know too much about your hand.

Raft's Crew Aims South

HALIFAX (BUP) — The log raft L'Egare (The Lost One) is drifting somewhere south of Sable Island with its four weary French crewmen trying to turn the craft south into the Gulf stream.

The crewmen radioed Halifax that they planned to "take a southern route." They left Halifax last Thursday and have gone about 200 miles southeast.

Family Gets Lay of Land

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (AP) — "Things like this do not happen in England," said British immigrant M. A. Emerson indignantly after his house slid 300 feet down a hill at Bay of Plenty this week. Emerson pulled his wife and three children out of a hole in the wall where his chimney had stood.

School Space Needed

DUNCAN—Many more pupils than there will be accommodation for when the next term commences in September will compel a number of emergency measures in school district 65, Cowichan.

F. A. McLellan, inspector of schools, told the school board there would be 100 more pupils at Cowichan High school. The school has an attendance now of 930, almost 200 more than the 750 which had originally been considered the accommodation maximum.

Steady growth of the district, with a heavy rise in school population, has crowded all schools of the district to capacity, except for a number of basement rooms at Cobble Hill and Duncan elementary. These basement rooms will have to be renovated and put into use in September, as recommended by the school inspector.

PUPIL SHIFT

To accommodate the extra pupils in Cowichan High school, those pupils in grades seven and eight who will be attending the new South Cowichan High school when it opens after the Christmas holidays, will be accommodated in the regular classrooms of the Cobble Hill High now being used for elementary pupils. The elementary pupils will be moved to Cobble Hill elementary school, using basement rooms, and one class of the grade 7 and 8 pupils will go to Sylvania.

A surplus over accommodation of 75 pupils is expected at Duncan elementary, and a surplus of 25 to 39 at New Somenos, while at Shawigan lake there is expected to be a surplus of 12 pupils. The surplus pupils at Duncan Elementary (75) and New Somenos (25-30) can be housed as an emergency measure in three unused basement rooms of the Duncan elementary school.

The heavy increase of pupils imposes staffing and transportation problems as well. One additional teacher will be needed for Shawnigan Lake; three additional teachers for Duncan Elementary; one extra teacher will be needed for a new school at Glenora, and one teacher for a new school at Sahtlam.

One additional secondary teacher will be required for the junior high class housed at Sylvania, and two secondary teachers for the two divisions accommodated at Cobble Hill.

Four teachers will be transferred to the South Cowichan Junior-Senior High school when it opens in January.

To provide transportation, a new bus will have to be purchased, and an old bus will need to be stationed in the south end of the district.

Cowichan's Business Link

Go-Ahead Lake Cowichan

Town Works Hard And Plays Hard

By ALEC MERRIMAN

Lake Cowichan is a young people's town where everyone works hard and plays hard.

It is just 17 miles due west of Duncan amid a scenic setting, with Cowichan lake on one side of the village, Cowichan river running through the other, and surrounded by mountains.

"Lake Cowichan hasn't mushroomed, but it has grown steadily and surely since it was incorporated as a village in 1944 with a population of 660," village clerk W. A. Chappell told The Daily Colonist.

The 592-acre village now has a population of 1,800 but it serves an area of logging camps and mills, which swells the trading population to 7,300.

LUMBER, MINING

"Our economy hinges on the lumbering industry, but recently copper mining has brought a new year-round industry to our district," Mr. Chappell said.

The tourist industry flourishes in the Lake Cowichan district and some of the island's most picturesque resorts skirt the lake and river.

Fishing and hunting play a major part in the lives of nearly all the residents.

But Lake Cowichan is built for permanency. "More than 50 per cent of our people own their own houses," commission chairman Ernest S. Towle said. Of 100 houses built in 1948 on a veterans' rental basis, 96 have now been sold to resident owners.

The tax roll includes $257,107 in land and $1,772,709 in improvements.

MORE BUILDING

This year 11 residential permits totalling $55,700 have been issued compared with 19 residential permits totalling $65,800 last year.

The village has nine miles of road and its own water supply from Stanley creek which flows into Cowichan lake.

A volunteer 15-man department looks after the fire protection and the Lake Cowichan Kinsmen Club operates an ambulance which was bought by public subscription.

Elementary and high schools are fully equipped and the district is served by the Vancouver island regional library which has an office in the village.

SPORTS-MINDED

Lake Cowichan is full of sports enthusiasm and there is an abundance of Little League and farm baseball teams. The village hockey team won the Vancouver Island championship and The Daily Colonist trophy.

The village has developed a park on the river with a full-time summer swimming instructor and lifeguard. There are two other parks maintained by community effort.

Big village project now in progress is for a 30-bed, $700,000 hospital for the district. The community has reached the two-thirds mark in raising its share of the cost.

Striking Students Punished By Being Given One Day Off

NANAIMO — District school inspector Claude L. Campbell has recommended to Nanaimo school board that the 130 Senior High striking students be given one day's suspension for their April 18 demonstration.

[illegible] chief inspector of schools for the province, F. P. Levirs, said there was no justification for the student disturbance on the morning of April 18.

The 10,000-word report was discussed Wednesday evening by Nanaimo school district trustees at a closed meeting. The complete text was released to the press yesterday, together with notes of resolutions.

BOARD SATISFIED

One resolution expressed the board's full satisfaction with Mr. Levirs' investigation.

Trustees also accepted the report of Mr. Campbell, recommending that the students concerned be disciplined "by one day's suspension and only readmitted on giving solemn assurance that as long as they remained in the school they would be respectful to their teachers and obedient to the rules and regulations."

School principal J. B. Litch was criticized in the report. It taxed him with a "relatively serious error in judgment" in once sending home a youngster from school without informing both parents and board.

He will be asked by the board to report on the adverse comments included in the Levirs report and outline what he proposes to do about them.

"I think that the principal is prone to take too much responsibility for the conduct of pupils outside of the school as well as in. This is resented by both pupils and parents," the report stated.

The school board also did not escape without criticism [illegible] demand for an interview.

Main student complaints had been what they termed undue restriction of extra-curricular activities and that some students were being "forced" out of school.

Mr. Levirs had high praise for the administration of the school. He found abundant provision for individual needs and differences in the school and a wide variety of courses in academic, commercial and practical subjects.

"On the whole, the school is well administered," he said. "I am satisfied that any student in it who has any desire and will to work has the opportunity to make a success of his school life. I am also satisfied that the majority of the pupils are doing just that."

UBC Graduates To Join Foreign Trade Service

Five graduates of UBC will go to Ottawa in the next few days to join the foreign trade service of the Canadian government.

They are among a dozen candidates selected from a large group examined in a nation-wide survey conducted this year by the civil service commission.

"We have secured an excellent group from the whole of Canada but particularly from British Columbia," said P. V. McLane, western representative of the foreign trade service in noting that nearly half of the successful candidates were chosen from this province.

"The men chosen also showed a wide knowledge of our trade problems which reflects the importance of foreign trade to this province," he added.

Successful UBC candidates were: R. M. Dawson, L. D. Dyke, B. Horth, D. M. W. Hummel and J.M.T. Thomas.

While in Ottawa the graduates will undergo training in the department of trade and commerce for 10 to 12 months. They will then tour Canada before they are posted abroad as members of the foreign trade service.

Owners of Stray Pets Face Fines in U.K.

LONDON (Reuters) — Dog owners who let their pets stray on certain roads in Britain will be liable to a fine of £5, the House of Commons decided Wednesday night. Members were discussing a government proposal to reduce the 3,000 casualties a year from automobile and motorcycle crashes involving dogs.
